Distinguished Attorney
Will Examine Claims
in Venezuela.

CHICAGO, July 11.—William J. Calhoun, of Chicago, has been selected by President Roosevelt to act as a special commissioner to visit Venezuela and determine the quality of the asphalt company's claims and other vexed questions.

Mr. Calhoun, aside from being a lawyer of distinction is not without experience in tasks of diplomatic delicacy such as the present one must be, for he went to Cuba for President McKinley on a mission of somewhat similar import before the Spanish-American war.

When the report of the appointment was brought to Mr. Calhoun, he refused to discuss the matter, but did not deny it.

Mr. Calhoun was a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission from 1893 to 1900.

Mr. Calhoun is preparing to leave for Washington early next week. He has just returned to Chicago from Oyster Bay, where he was in conference with the President.

COWBOY CROESUS MAKES A RECORD.

WALTER SCOTT, WHO MADE A RECORD RUN TO CHICAGO FROM LOS ANGELES ON HIS $5,500 SANTA FE SPECIAL TRAIN.

Scott's Special Reaches Chicago Six
Minutes Ahead of the Fastest
Time Estimate.

CHICAGO, July 11.—With every car blackened by a delirious record-breaking run from Los Angeles to Chicago, the Walter Scott special on the Santa Fe Railroad arrived here at 11:34 a. m., having beaten all previous records by hours, as well as better the special train's own exacting schedule.

Consisting of a baggage, diner and private living car, the train which left Los Angeles at 1 p. m. Sunday, came into the Polk street station today almost at top speed, having made the run of 2,255 miles in forty-four hours and fifty-four minutes. This is twenty-three hours and five minutes faster than the time of the regular Santa Fe limited.

BEATS CONTRACT.

It is three hours and six minutes faster than the original contract called for (which was forty-eight hours), and beats the latter schedule of forty-five hours by six minutes.

The best previous time for this run was made by the Peacock Special in 1900 in a "race against death," but the record of this train by the performance consummated today is beaten by seven hours and fifty-five minutes. Extraordinary time was made eastbound from Dodge City, Kansas, where the train arrived at thirty-five minutes late last night at 9:31 o'clock. But a good roadbed, clear track and expert work by the engineer and fireman not only enabled Scott to regain the lost time, but to beat his closest and most hopeful calculations by six minutes.

CREW HAPPY.

The train was in excellent condition when it arrived, save for the coating of dust and grime. The crew was smiling and happy, although showing traces of the strain they had undergone.

Eliminating stops or "dead" time, which aggregated fifty-nine minutes, the special made the run in forty-three hours and fifty-five minutes, or an average for the entire distance of 2,241 1/4 miles of 51.1 miles per hour. The fastest time of the run was made between Chillicothe and Cole City, Illinois, a distance of seventy-one miles, which was covered at the rate of 65 1/2 miles per hour. Scott will have to pay the company a bonus.

REMARKABLE SPEED.

SHIPTON, Iowa, July 11.—Running at a remarkable speed considering that six ranges of mountains lay across the route, the Scott special on the Santa Fe Railroad reached here today at 7:52 a. m., only two minutes behind the revised schedule arranged to bring the train to Chicago from Los Angeles in forty-five hours and thirty-five minutes. Judging by the progress up to this point, the expectation here was that the train might reach Chicago by noon today, making the total run in forty-five hours flat. The distance from Los Angeles to Chicago is 2,255 miles, which is practically on a par with the speed of the famous eighteen-hour trains between Chicago and New York. The Scott special on the Santa Fe consists of an engine, baggage car, sleeping car and dining car.

BEHIND SCHEDULE.

STREETER, Ill., July 11.—The Scott special on the Santa Fe passed Streeter at 10:09 a. m., five minutes behind a forty-five-hour schedule.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE.

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—The Scott special on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, racing for a record between Los Angeles and Chicago, reached Argentina, Kansas in the West bottoms at 3:37 this morning, and departed for the North at 3:40. The train was due here at 5:30 and was thus one hour and fifty-three minutes ahead of its schedule.

After leaving Argentina, one of the liveliest clips on the trip was maintained, the special covering 221 miles between Kansas City and Fort Madison, Iowa, in four hours and nine minutes.

Does Not Want Employees
Talking About Equitable.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Chairman Morton of the Equitable Life Assurance Society in a circular warns all officers and employees of the society not to discuss publicly the society's affairs.

"In the future, when there is anything to be said, I will say it," is the concluding statement of Mr. Morton's letter.

Chairman Morton announced today that he intended to retain the services of Second Vice-President Gage E. Tarbell.

"Mr. Tarbell and I have agreed to work together for the present," said Mr. Morton. "He will have a chance to demonstrate his usefulness to the society along the lines of his special work, and then if we do not agree later, why one or the other of us will leave the society."

Mr. Morton also said that the resignation of Archibald C. Haynes, transfer agent of the Equitable, would not be accepted. He has asked Mr. Haynes to withdraw his resignation, which had been presented to take effect January 1 next.

The Evening Post today says that Thomas F. Ryan, in addition to his purchase of Hyde stock of the Equitable Society, also controls, with his associates, another life insurance company.

The Evening Post says: "When the attention of the financial world was attracted to Thomas F. Ryan, the traction operator and future builder of subways, by his purchase from James H. Hyde of the fifty-two shares of stock which controlled the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, it was not known that Mr. Ryan and his associates also controlled one other life insurance company."

SAY CRIME WAS POLITICAL

REASON FOR ASSASSINATION
OF MOSCOW'S PREFECT OF POLICE.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 11.—The assassination of Prefect of Police Count Shuvaloff of Moscow is today considered to be a purely political crime, as the count was not over 40 years of age and was regarded as being one of the best type of Russian officials. He came from one of the most famous families in Russia.

The count was a son of Count Peter Shuvaloff, the statesman who represented Russia at the Berlin conference, was formerly a colonel of the guard regiment, known as the St. Petersburg, and was one of Emperor Nicholas' personal friends.

The assassin waited in the ante-room of the prefecture until the other petitioners had been received and then entered the audience room he advanced towards Count Shuvaloff, firing three shots at close range. The bullets passed through the body of the Prefect.

MAY RULE OVER
NORWEGIANS.

LONDON, July 11.—The Associated Press is in a position to confirm the report that an offer of the Norwegian throne has been made to King Edward's son-in-law, Prince Charles of Denmark. The matter is still under consideration. It is understood that King Edward and the British Government are favorable to the project but much depends on King Oscar's attitude on the subject. Consultations now going on.

Prince Charles' mother was a daughter of the late King of Sweden.

READY TO FIGHT THE MOUNTAIN FIRE.

LICK OBSERVATORY ON MOUNT HAMILTON THREATENED BY FIRE

Professors at Lick Observatory
Watching the Progress of the Great Blaze.

SAN JOSE, Cal., July 11.—Reports from the scene of the Mount Hamilton fire this forenoon are more reassuring. The fire has lessened in intensity, and Professor Tucker, of the Lick Observatory, telephones that it is still ten or twelve miles away and has not yet crossed the Arroyo Valle creek. Between that stream and the summit proper is a dividing ridge and the Santa Ysabel creek.

The wind last night veered to the South, checking the fury of the flames, which are slowly eating their way through a section that is largely covered with scrub oak and chaparral.

Should the fire succeed in reaching the main mountain, it would burn over a considerable portion of the observatory reservation, but the buildings themselves are surrounded for some distance by a zone that is comparatively bare and rocky, and Professor Tucker believes that with the arrangements for combatting the flames that have been made, they can be kept away from the buildings.

The observatory people are now breathing much easier, but numerous ranches in the line of the fire are in grave danger.

The loss of timber and pasture has been serious, and much more is doomed, but it is felt that the most acute phase of the situation has been passed.

WANTS FRANCE TO INTERVENE.

PARIS, July 11.—Baron D'estournelles de Constant, the French member of the Hague Peace Tribunal, has written a letter to Premier Rouvier urging French intervention in the conflict between Norway and Sweden. The letter says in part:

"The Governments of Europe abstained from offering their good offices to Russia and Japan, with the result that the United States has the honor of the beneficent intervention. Previously the same European Governments abstained from recognizing the existence of The Hague convention, thus leaving the United States the honor of initiating such recognition. Today a grave conflict has broken out between Sweden and Norway. Without thrusting ourselves into the conflict we cannot remain indifferent to our duty to ourselves and to all Europe to prevent the spread of a violent conflagration. The relations of France toward Sweden and Norway insure a sympathetic welcome to words of conciliation from you. I therefore ask in the name of a great number of French and foreign parliamentarians that you give your powerful authority to this pacific effort, which will receive an approving echo from the Governments of Europe and America."

KILLED
PREFECT OF POLICE.

MOSCOW, July 11.—Major-General Count Shuvaloff, Prefect of police here and formerly attached to the ministry of the interior, was assassinated this morning while receiving petitions. One of the petitioners drew a revolver and fired three times at the Prefect who fell dead. The assassin was arrested.

The assassin was dressed as a peasant, but has not been identified. He was recently arrested as a political suspect, but escaped from the police station before his examination.

MESSAGE TO WRECK SALOONS.

IOLA, Kas., July 11.—Sheriff Richardson today organized a posse to search for C. L. Melvin, who is supposed to have wrecked the three saloons here with dynamite, and who is still at large.

One thousand pounds of dynamite which Melvin is believed to have taken from the magazine of a local cement works is still unaccounted for.

Today Mrs. Melvin received a letter from her husband in which he said that twenty-three years ago he had been told "in a vision by God himself," that he was to "strike the rum power a blow from the effects of which it would never recover."

"All the intervening years," says Melvin, "I have nurtured that purpose of command. Don't expect me home, for I am in this fight to a finish."

Why Russians Failed to Make Showing Against Japanese.

MANILA, July 11.—An investigation of the breach blocks from the guns of the Russian warships interned at this port indicates that only a few shots were fired during the engagement with the Japanese fleet in the Sea of Japan.

An unofficial report of the result of the secret examination states that the Russian crews were in a mutinous condition while facing the enemy, and that the officers, rendered helpless, were forced to abandon the fight in order to save their lives.

A prominent Russian officer here says that the world will never know the inside history of the defeat of Russia's fleet in the engagement on May 27.

Working Up a Strong

in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 11.—The papers here generally consider that France's amicable agreement with Germany on the subject of Morocco was wise, contending that France, instead of suffering, secures distinct recognition by Germany of her interests in Morocco. The Novoe Vremya considers that the friction between the countries was not dissimilar to the situation which existed between Russia and Japan before the war and commends France's prompt appreciation of her indefensible position.

"France," the paper says, "did not hesitate to remove the Minister who was dragging the country into war."

M. Vandam, writer on the staff of the Novoe Vremya, publishing a series of articles, plying abuse on the United States, attempting to show that the United States is Russia's real enemy, that Japan is her puppet, and that a great mistake was made when Russia agreed to the peace negotiations taking place in Washington, "where the American Government can pull the strings." The articles display gross ignorance of many elementary facts, and the Novoe Vremya does not endorse them editorially. Nevertheless it is pointed out that such publications unfortunately are creating a false impression of the United States' role.

WITNESS.

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—The taking of testimony in the suit of Attorney-General Hadley, who seeks to oust the Standard Oil Company from Missouri for alleged violation of the anti-trust law, was resumed here today, the case having been transferred from St. Louis.

A. H. Gardner, a former agent of the National Oil Company, an independent concern with offices at Kansas City, described how the Standard Oil Company had granted rebates to customers to take the business away from the National, and how officials of the Standard came from Cleveland and New York to see him and fix up the trouble.

Mr. Gardner told frankly how he and a representative of the Standard talked over the rebates and other things which they agreed the witness said, "must be kept under a cloak."

SENSATION IS CAUSED

LORD ROBERTS SAYS MILITARY FORCE OF GREAT BRITAIN IS UNFIT.

LONDON, July 11.—Field Marshal Lord Roberts created a sensation in the House of Lords last evening, when, in a lengthy and well-considered speech, he deliberately expressed his conviction as a practical soldier that the military force of Great Britain was inadequate, imperfectly trained and totally unfit to uphold Great Britain as a first class power.

Lord Roberts did not blame the Government, which he said, was actuated by a national feeling, but he scathingly attacked the people of England, who, he said, showed no national feeling toward the military until danger arose. Then, said Lord Roberts, the soldier was the pet of the people, but this was only an evanescent enthusiasm which did not last after the danger disappeared.

This was said in reply to Earl Wemyss and March, whose speech had traversed Premier Balfour's statement regarding the impossibility of the invasion of Great Britain and urged the necessity of keeping up sufficient land forces to repel any possible invasion.

Lord Roberts said the lessons of the South African war had been forgotten. He had no hesitation in saying that the armed forces of Great Britain as a body were now as absolutely untrained and unprepared for war as they were when the South African trouble broke out. He declared emphatically that the choice lay between conscription or some practical system of military training and that only by such means would it be possible for Great Britain to possess armed forces organized and trained to meet the demands of the empire in the event of war.

Lord Roberts, continuing, asserted that any discussion of Great Britain's military position within the limits of the motion proposed by the Earl of Wemyss and March would be entirely unavailing. The country had to do with a question of the issue of which was the life or death of the empire, which depended upon Great Britain being able to defend her Eastern possessions and at the same time take part in any affair nearer home, either of which necessitated the placing in the field of an army as large and efficient as that of any of the European

ED. THAYER'S DAUGHTERS MAN SAVED FROM JAIL

CONTEST HIS WILL. BY CRY OF A BABE.

Say Late Saloonman Was Influenced By His Wife—Want Share of Estate.

Many Elements Go to Make Up Serio-Comic Play Before Acting Police Judge Geary.

The will of the well-known saloonman, Edward Thayer, was attacked this morning by his two daughters, Florence Morris and Mabel B. Angell, and they have brought a contest and will fight their step-mother for a share in the estate left by their late father.

According to a complaint filed this morning by Attorneys M. C. Chapman and Mortimer Smith, it is alleged that Mrs. Emma Thayer had only been the wife of deceased for the past three years, and that their father would not have disinherited them had he been in his right mind.

The estate of the deceased is valued at about $15,000, and consists of the saloon near the corner of Broadway and Eighth streets, which is valued at about $6,000. Besides this there are some flats in West Oakland that bring in a rental of $30 a month, and other property.

By the will of the deceased he left all of his estate to his wife and gave his two daughters nothing and they now claim that he was unduly influenced by his wife to make such a disposition of it.

Besides having the property all left her by will, Mrs. Thayer has deeded to her by her husband, she says, with the understanding that they were not to be placed on record until he died, with the exception of the deeds to the flats, which she stated he told her to put on record on the date of the anniversary of their marriage, which would have been in August.

Shortly before his death he was declared incompetent and Mrs. Thayer was appointed guardian of his person and estate. He was at that time in the Livermore Sanitarium, and only lived a few days after the proceedings had been had. He had been in a weak state for some time prior to his death, and the daughters declare that he was for many months prior to his death incompetent to make a will. The date of the will is May 13, and it is claimed that at this time he had no mind of his own.

The will is witnessed by F. W. Hatch of Sacramento and Attorney J. W. Stetson of this city.

Before acting Police Judge Geary this morning in the police court there was a case involving many human weaknesses and emotions, among them being a husband's neglect, a wife's devotion, a single man's recklessness, and last, but not least, a baby's influence, which is always powerful in straightening out matters.

James Morris was the married man and Paul Ruth was the single character in the serio-comic play enacted before Judge Geary. Both men were under arrest. Morris had to answer to the charge of pretending to commit suicide by firing a pistol off twice into the roof of his home, 1534 Broadway, while Ruth had to answer to the charge of being drunk and carrying weapons.

ON A SPREE.

The occurrences leading up to the appearance of all parties in the police court were that Morris and Ruth last night went on a spree and after having consumed large quantities of liquor returned to where Mrs. Morris and her babe were. Morris was in a maudlin condition and did not take well to the curtain lecture read to him by his wife on the evils of drunkenness; he had in his possession a loaded pistol, so after enduring the word-lashing of his spouse for a limited time, he rushed into the adjoining room, raised the pistol to his head and fired twice into the ceiling.

His object, as developed in the police court this morning, was to frighten his wife. He succeeded in this, but Ruth, his single friend, came to the rescue by taking the revolver away from him. While this had the effect of temporarily quieting the wife, Sergeant of Police Beck and Policeman Mulgrew appeared on the scene and demanded an explanation of the discharging of the firearms.

ARE ARRESTED.

The result of the visit of the police was the arrest of Ruth on a charge of carrying the pistol with which the husband had tried to put an end to his life, ostensibly, and also on a charge of drunkenness. The husband, who signally failed to end his life, was taken into custody on a charge of discharging firearms within city limits. Judge Geary was inclined to be stern this morning until he heard the will of the little babe. The wife was in court in a most forgiving nature, and when the Judge said that he was inclined to send Morris to jail for the limit the child gave a shriek which pierced the heart of the court.

CRY OF A BABE.

"The cry of your babe and the supplication of your wife," said Judge Geary, addressing Morris, "ought to be enough to make a man of you. You are a poor specimen of humanity to appear before this court on a charge of attempting to frighten your wife by pretending to commit suicide. They both are in need of your support."

"If you were the only element that entered into the consideration of the case I would gladly send you to jail for the limit. You have shown yourself to be unworthy to have a good wife and a pretty baby. From the facts in the case it is apparent you have been neglecting your family for the purpose of getting drunk and after you were drunk you tried to frighten your wife by firing your pistol twice in cowardice."

"I am going to give you one chance to become a man. I will not send you to jail at the present time. I am going to give you ten days in which to go to work. If by the end of that time you have provided for your wife and baby, I will suspend judgment entirely. If you do not support your wife and child in the meantime I will send you to jail."

WHAT RUTH GETS.

Judge Geary next paid his respects to Ruth. He said:

"Ruth, you are a single man. You have no right to enter a home and carry off the husband and get him drunk so that he is unable to work or ask for work. If you must get drunk, do not invade a home. I understand you have a position to go to. In this case you seemed to have been innocent of carrying a concealed weapon in the meaning of the law. If you remain in the city I will order a bench warrant for your arrest. I will suspend judgment in your case only on condition that you leave the city. You should take this lesson of appearing in the police court deep to heart and live your life differently."

countries, all of which might be regarded as nations in arms.

Every other European country regarded its army as part of the nation, he said, while England considered her army to be something quite outside the national life and no thought was bestowed upon it by the civil population except as part of the political and partisan platform.

Lord Roberts appealed to the country to awaken to its danger and to the hold of the army as a great national issue on which the existence of Great Britain depended. He said the whole empire must rise to the occasion and that every one must personally bear a share in the defense of a stable those to whom responsibility was delegated to become in all respects efficient.

The discussion of the motion continued for some time, the speakers complimenting Lord Roberts for his stand he had taken.

Lord Lansdowne, the foreign Minister, defended Premier Balfour. He said that Balfour had never said that the defense of the country depended solely upon the navy. The committee on defense had taken every possible phase into consideration and would, he hoped, be able to work out the problem to the satisfaction of every one.

The government decided not to oppose the motion of the Earl of Wemyss and March, which was passed without a division.

JAPS FIRE ON WOUNDED

PHYSICIAN MAKES SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS AGAINST ADMIRAL TOGO.

MIRAL TOGO.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—"By Admiral Togo's orders, the Japanese fired upon and captured two Russian hospital ships which were engaged in the work of saving wounded men from drowning and in explanation later of their violation of the treaty of Geneva, the Japanese lied."

So says Dr. Henry Paris, who was a surgeon on the Russian hospital ship Orel, from the deck of which vessel he saw the beginning of the battle of the Sea of Japan, which resulted so disastrously for the czar's naval glory. Dr. Paris arrived yesterday, a passenger on the liner Koyama Maru. He is a Frenchman and was on the Orel as a delegate from the Red Cross Society of France.

The Orel is a vessel about the size of the Manchuria and was in command of Dr. Moultanoffsky. Lieutenant Lackmattor was the navigator and of arms there was on board, says Dr. Paris, not even a revolver.

"It was at 2 o'clock p. m. of May 27," the doctor declares, "that we heard heavy firing. The Orel and another hospital ship, the Kostroma, were in company. It was very foggy. The first thing we saw was the Russian battleship Borodino. She was on fire and in the water; all around were wounded Russian sailors. We started in to pick up these men, when two Japanese cruisers suddenly appeared and opened fire on us with their big guns. At the Orel seven shots were fired, but they all missed. Then one of the Japanese cruisers signaled us to follow her."

"What do you want?" we signaled back.

"You should understand better than any one else," was their reply.

"We asked to be allowed to pick the wounded men from the water but were ordered to follow or there would be more shooting. The Orel and the Kostroma followed the cruisers to Tsushima, where a Japanese officer came on board with a prize crew and took charge of the ship."

"We asked this officer why he had fired on ships flying the Red Cross flag and he replied that it had been done in retaliation for Russian violations of the Geneva Convention. Later on they had another explanation, but it was plainly a lie. Before meeting the Japanese, the Russian fleet had captured a British transport, heavily laden with contraband. Exposed by the British, they wished to endanger the lives of the captured transport's officers, the latter were placed on board the Orel. This transfer was made at sea only a few days before and the Japanese could have had no knowledge of it until they boarded the Orel at Tsushima; and yet, at a later investigation, they had the effrontery to say that in having these men on board we had used the vessel in violation of the Geneva treaty and that they had fired on us because these men were on board."

"The Orel and Kostroma were taken to Sasebo, where for fifteen days all on board were held close prisoners. They were not allowed to communicate with their government or with anybody else. The Japanese later sent the Orel's crew back to Russia. They agreed to release the Kostroma, but changed their minds and sent her officers and crew away on other vessels. They have the Orel and Kostroma and will keep them both."

Of the battle Dr. Paris knows little. Its outcome he did not learn until weeks afterward. From the Orel he saw the Russian battleship Borodino burst into flames. He saw her sailors leap into the water. Those on the Orel tried to save them, but were prevented by the Japanese. As the fog shut the blazing Borodino from view, the fire-weathed and shot-shattered battleship seemed just about to sink. Dr. Paris says the discipline on the Orel and on the Kostroma was perfect.

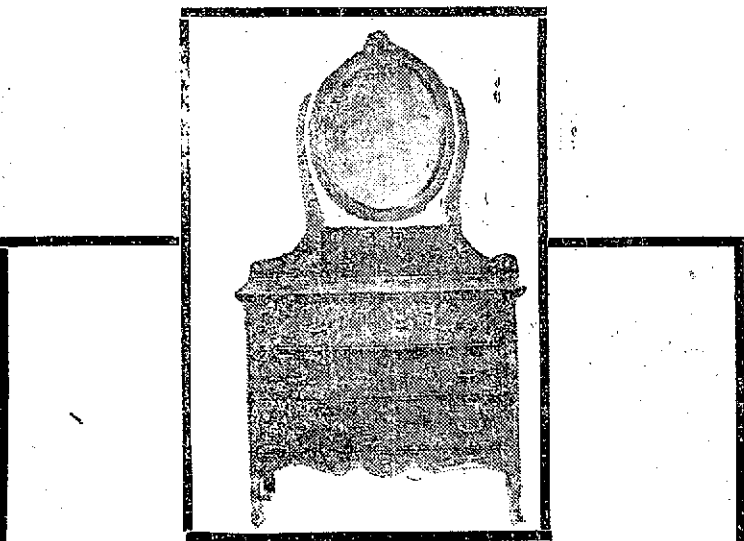

MOTHER SEES HER CHILD DROWN

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—A two-year-old baby was swept out to sea and drowned before the eyes of the agonized mother at Long Beach yesterday afternoon. The body has not been recovered.

Charles Johnson and wife of Boston are occupying a cottage at Tent City on the Strand, a short distance west of Long Beach. At that point there is a shelf in the beach against which the waves break at high tide. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Johnson placed her baby girl in a small chair on the sand and asked another child to watch the little one. Before the mother had reached her cottage, an unusually high wave rolled in. The chair containing the baby was knocked over when the water broke, and the receding water caught the child and swept it into deeper water. A glimpse or two of its little arms were seen in the foam of the surf by the score or more of persons who had witnessed the tragedy, but by the time the text wave formed, the child's body had been lost to view. The Long Beach Life Saving crew was summoned, but they could not find the body.

FRAWLEY'S FAREWELL TO THE STATE.

Makes a Pathetic Speech From Stage at the Macdonough.

Says He Was Not Treated Fairly in San Francisco.

T. Daniel Frawley in "Ransom's Folly," was the attraction at the Macdonough Theater last night. There was a fair audience present, but what the house lacked in numbers was made up in enthusiasm.

Mr. Frawley was given a splendid reception, being called before the curtain several times.

Finally he was called upon for a speech and he consented to make a few remarks.

He said that he regretted very much the treatment he had received in San Francisco. He expected a great deal of the people of that city. When he opened at the Columbia he made a speech and he found the next day that the critics had misconstrued his words. They said that he had roasted his play, and his company, which was not true. This information had gone back to New York, and had done him a great deal of harm.

He had hoped for better treatment in view of the fact that he had opened the Columbia, and with the assistance of the lady sitting there (pointing to Blanche Bates, who was seated in a box) had done the best work possible and helped make the theater a success.

Mr. Frawley said that he was going away from California and expected to be gone a long time. When he returned again he hoped for better treatment. He thanked the people of Oakland for their generous appreciation of his work, but he would leave his favorite State sore at heart over the way he had been treated.

The speech was pathetic in a measure, and it moved the audience. The performance was a most delightful one, and was fully appreciated by the audience.

ATTEMPT TO SAVE HER MIND

DOMESTIC TROUBLES CAUSE WOMAN TO LOSE MENTAL BALANCE.

Driven to religion as a solace for the alleged treatment of her by her husband, Mrs. W. G. Tighe, of 566 Lydia street, was examined this morning for religious mania, which it was feared might turn at any time to violence. She says that her husband deserted her in 1901, and left her with her two children, and it is stated that in brooding over her misfortunes she has lost her mental balance.

The examination developed the fact that while she is in a somewhat excited state, it was thought possible that she might recover and she was sent to the Providence Hospital for a week, and if by that time she has not improved she will be sent to an asylum.

She has taken a violent dislike to her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Morrison, whom she believes is trying to separate her from her children, a boy William aged seven, and Vivian, a girl, aged nine. She was married to Tighe in Sacramento in 1894, and they afterwards lived in Madera.

WHY JAPANESE COURT WAS SEVERE ON FRENCHMAN.

Judgment Declares That He Gave Information to Assist the Enemy. Gave Important News to His Paper Published in Paris.

TOKIO July 11.—The judgment of ten years at hard labor rendered against M. A. E. Bougain in the District Court declares the accused was engaged in searching out and reporting military secrets, and cites several counts, which follow.

FIRST OFFENSE.

First.—In last November he ascertained the departure of a certain military division through X. Strang his son-in-law and sent the information in a cipher message to one Kessler a Frenchman at Shanghai who telegraphed it to La Fayette Parisian in Paris. In November a certain military division effected a landing and dispatched a body of cavalry when Bougain mailed the facts to the same newspaper.

SECOND CHARGE.

Second.—The departure of a certain military division northward by rail was ascertained and reported to the same newspaper.

TELLS OF SOLDIERS.

Third.—When this division reached its destination in January and another division moved northward the facts were reported to Captain de Labry in Paris through the mail pouch of the French Legation.

AT PORT ARTHUR.

Fourth.—The composition of various artillery detachments at Port Arthur the kinds and number of guns there were ascertained in August and reported to De Labry in the same manner.

NEW DIVISION.

Fifth.—The organization of a new army division, the recruiting of certain regiments at Tokio the dispatch to the front and the recruiting of certain regiments were ascertained in February which with the dispatch of regiments from Yokohama and the dispatch from Tokio of regiments recruited in Nagoya were reported to De Labry in the same manner.

TRANSPORTS.

Sixth.—The formation of certain military bodies in Hiroshima were reported to De Labry in the same manner, while the presence of a fleet of thirty transports at a certain point in April was reported to Kessler in Shanghai and by him cabled to De Labry in Paris.

Additional information concerning the cargoes of transports was reported by letter.

CONFESSED GUILT.

The judgment recites that Bougain sent his interpreter, Maki, to ascertain the movements of troops and that Maki confessed his guilt.

The judgment declared that the information covered by counts two and three related to the northward movement of the Japanese army of Port Arthur after the capitulation of that fortress and previous to the battle of Mukden. The decision declared that therefore the information constituted an important military secret.

MAYOR IN A FIGHT CLOSE UP BROTHEL

Supreme Court Declares Police Can Make Raid on Place.

NEWPORT Ky, July 11.—As a result of a clash of authority between Jailer Pluetger of the Newport jail and Mayor Helmhold over Caleb Powers, former Secretary of State, now in jail here under indictment charging him with complicity in the murder of William Goebel the jailer and three men have been arrested on the order of Mayor Helmhold and the Mayor and two policemen have been arrested on warrants sworn out by the United States Commissioner.

The Mayor and two policemen are charged with resisting United States officers.

The jailer and three assistants are charged with assault and battery.

Mayor Helmhold gave orders to have Powers held in the jail.

The jailer resisted these attempts, holding that the prisoner was under the jurisdiction of the United States Court and that the Mayor had no authority over Powers.

A fight ensued during which the Mayor's front teeth were knocked out, revolvers were drawn and almost the whole police force of Newport was brought into action.

All those arrested have been released on bond for a hearing.

PLANNING TO TAKE OVER ROAD

SAN FRANCISCO July 11.—The Board of Supervisors yesterday took the initial step toward taking over the Geary street road under city ownership by adopting the following resolution under a suspension of the rules:

"Resolved That the City Engineer be directed to prepare and transmit to the Board of Supervisors specifications in detail for the construction of a municipal street railroad from Market street, along Geary street to Point Lobos avenue, along Point Lobos avenue to Tenth avenue and thence along Tenth avenue to Fulton street (excluding car and power house) in accordance with the plans and estimates of the City Engineer of construction of an underground electric railroad on Geary and other streets, filed with the Board of Supervisors May 25 1905 in order that bids may be invited for so much of the construction of said street railroad as may be accomplished within the appropriation of $350,000 set aside for this purpose in the budget of the fiscal year 1905-1906."

Braunhart stated that it was intended to build a first class road and denied the information conveyed by Herbert E. Law in a letter to the Mayor that the appropriation is insufficient for the purpose.

Resolved That the City Attorney be requested to solicit offers from the owners of the following described lands, with the purpose of the power and car plant of the proposed municipal railroad on Geary street and to report the result thereof to the Board of Supervisors, to wit: The southwestern corner of Geary and Broderick streets 162 x 100 feet, the southeasterly corner of Broderick and Geary streets, 137 x 112 feet, the north-easterly corner of Broderick and Geary streets, 155 x 125 feet, irregular, the north-easterly corner of Baker and Geary streets, 162 x 137 feet, the north-westerly corner of Davis and Geary streets, 127 x 125 feet."

GIRL-WIFE SEEKS A DIVORCE

MARIAN SPERRY WANTS A LEGAL SEPARATION GIVEN HER.

SAN RAFAEL July 11.—A suit for divorce has been filed by Marian Harrison Sperry against Richard Sperry for non support which would have created a great stir in the hill colony at Sausalito if it had not been well understood for some time that a legal separation was the only solution of the marital troubles of these young people.

Mrs. Sperry is the daughter of Commodore J. W. Harrison of the Yacht Club and a business man of San Francisco. She tells that her parents objected to her marriage, but that she ran away with the popular Dick Sperry, becoming his wife December 29 1900.

One child a girl now a year and a half old was born to this exceedingly young couple. She is now with her mother.

This romantic marriage took place when the bride and groom were but 19 and 17 respectively. The bride who was a most attractive girl good looking and vivacious was no more popular than her husband who was a dashing fellow liked by every one. They started out with good wishes, but they were too young to solve happily the problem of married life. Young Sperry was not overfortunate in his business investments a fact which did not add to the stability of the home making the couple's life a constant struggle. One misunderstanding tramped upon the heels of another until the couple separated Sperry going to South Africa. Since that time Mrs. Sperry has lived with her father and mother in Sausalito.

FREIGHT YARDS IN CHINA BASIN

SAN FRANCISCO July 11.—It was formally announced by the local officials of the Santa Fe Company yesterday that steps are to be immediately taken toward the establishing of big freight yards on the China Basin property. As a result of the recent visit to this city of Vice President Kendrick instructions have been issued by General Manager Wells to Chief Engineer Burns to hurry to completion plans for the construction of two immense freight houses in that locality. They will be 1,200 feet long and will be the nucleus for what promises to be one of the largest freight terminals in the West. It is expected that the construction of these buildings will take about a year during which time other important improvements will be under way at the basin.

The officials of the Santa Fe keenly appreciate the fact that the railroad business in California and especially in San Francisco is rapidly growing to enormous importance and it is in anticipation of the demand for greater facilities for handling freight that it has been decided to thoroughly equip the China Basin property. While this work is in progress the company will be finishing the cut off on its main line near Alamo square and double-tracking the greater portion of its road east of that town to Chicago. Discussing the projected improvements in this city one of the officials of the road said yesterday:

That San Francisco is to be a great freight center is no longer a theory but a certainty. Competing points along the coast will not materially interfere with this city's growth in this respect. The Santa Fe Company is now preparing to meet this development at a present cost of $10,000,000.

The establishment of sheds at China Basin will be the first move by the company toward concentrating its freight business at that point where with the building of necessary wharves it will be enabled to receive freight from the largest ships afloat and from all points in this country over its own rails.

APPLICANTS FOR JAPANESE LOAN

LONDON July 11.—Since the hour they opened today the banks charged with the issue of the new Japanese loan of $50,000,000 have been rushed with applicants. The indications are that the loan will be heavily over subscribed. The rush is even greater than on the occasion of the last loan.

rear in which were the houses of prostitution. Upon that fact the Court finds as follows:

"And these premises being public, the police officer has the same right to enter upon and traverse the passage-ways within the main court and the entrance thereto as had any other member of the public. In fact, in the enforcement of the law, which was being persistently violated through the existence of these houses of prostitution, he had the legal right to be there. It would be preposterous to say that where the public may freely enter to violate the law a police officer is excluded from entering to prevent it."

"He may remain there to make observations and may make inquiries to obtain evidence. He may ask the names and addresses of those he finds there with that object in view, and if his presence has the effect of driving visitors away, or deterring them from coming it has a proper and legitimate effect. He may warn those who are about to enter such places of their character, and the provisions of the ordinance against visiting them. He can be there either for the purpose of enforcing the law by the apprehension of its violators and securing evidence to punish them, or to prevent the continuance of the law by timely warning to those who are disposed to violate it. The maintenance of houses of this character is a continuous offense. These houses are public nuisances, as localities to which the public are invited to commit crime and where it is constantly committed, save when the presence of an officer in the locality has a deterrent effect. No public place whose existence is devoted exclusively to vice can claim immunity from the peaceful presence of the officer upon its passageways and approaches, with a view of suppressing it."

POLICE HAD A RIGHT.

"The police had a right to be anywhere on these common passageways and they violated no right of plaintiff in placing themselves near the entrance of Dupont street, or in making the inquiries of persons about to enter thereon, of which plaintiff complains. Their action was aimed solely at these houses of prostitution. The object was to procure evidence, and their inquiries in that direction were legitimate and proper, and if the presence of these officers, and such inquiries, had the further effect of deterring persons from entering such premises, the houses were situated, this was only a legitimate result."

"If a man sees fit to establish a business which would be otherwise legal within a general inclosure devoted to crime, and which relies in a large measure for its support, premises on which such houses of prostitution are maintained, he must suffer the consequences of his temerity."

"The location of his business under the circumstances of this case could not protect this public passageway from entrance thereon by the police, and the maintenance of such premises to become inviolate from interference by the police officers, which would be the effect of the injunction granted by the lower court, if it was authorized. For the reasons given we think it was not a proper and prudent opinion Justice Angelotti says: 'It needs no citation of authorities to substantiate the elementary proposition that equity will not stretch forth a helping hand to aid in the committing of a crime.'"

Justices Beatty and McFarland were concurring opinions also, and all the Justices signed the opinion.

DEATH ON THE DESERT

TERRIBLE STORIES OF SUFFERING TOLD IN THE SOUTH.

SAN BERNARDINO July 11.—Another terrible story of the desert lurking men into the very jaws of death has been brought in by James R. McRae, a prospector, who, himself having had a close shave from succumbing to the intense heat, met a party of six who were saved by little less than a miracle.

McRae was hurrying out of the Telescope range, which overshadows Death Valley, when his horse was stricken dead by overexertion in the heat. A water cask which the animal carried had to be abandoned, and taking in his canteen sufficient to see him to the next spring, ten miles distant he set out afoot.

When too late he discovered his canteen was leaking, and before half the distance was covered he was entirely without water. Suffering with the heat and in agony from thirst McRae decided not to attempt to push on the remaining five miles to the springs, but to try to find some water in the muddy pool scattered at times like a mirage in the desert.

McRae sat on a rock, rolled a pipeful of tobacco in his hands and let forth a shrill call. His voice echoed, down the hot rock canyons, and lighting his pipe, he again filled the canyon with resounding echoes, and a moment later leaped to his feet involuntarily, startled by a resounding cry. Filling up his canteen, McRae started in the direction of the sound, frequently calling so as to attract attention and occasionally a response came each time the voice being nearer, until McRae came upon a miner struggling toward him.

He was offered the canteen and seized it savagely, but withdrawing it from his lips pointed down the road and staggered on. McRae managed to get from him that there were others a short distance off dying of thirst, and taking the canteen McRae hurried along down the canyon, coming upon five other men, all lying or sitting on the ground.

Their tongues were swollen and a white froth fringed their lips. For twenty hours they had been without a drop of water and the thermometer ranging as high as 140. They had started from Pahump Nev. to look for rich placer ground in Death Valley had lost their way, and getting into the Telescope range had devoted their nights prospecting for water holes. Finally realizing the futility of their search they started for the railroad.

They found one water hole after another without a drop of water, and had been walking twenty hours without a drop of fluid. They were about to give up to the seeming inevitable, believing a quick death preferable to the tortures they were suffering, when they heard the echo of McRae's voice as he felt life and hope return on slaking his thirst, and the one member of their party able to continue the walk stumbled on after assistance.

When the five miners were at last able to follow McRae back to the spring they plastered the wet mud in their mouths and over their faces and arms to draw out the pain produced by the fierce sun. All lay about the spring for several days. Two of the men are James de Long and Hyram Phillips who have been employed as miners in the Kern river field, another is a man named Blake, who lives in Coarse valley, and another is Ben Raymond, a Daguerre miner. There were also two brothers in the party named Rice, who live in Pahump and have been mining on the desert for years.

DEATHS CAUSED BY HOT WEATHER

STOCKTON, July 11.—Twenty-one fatalities due to the hot weather have occurred at the Stockton State Hospital for the Insane within the last seven days. The record is something unprecedented. Dr. A. W. Holsholt of the medical staff of the hospital stated this afternoon that never in the history of the hospital have there been so many deaths in one week.

"We always expect more deaths during the hot weather," stated Dr. Holsholt. "But this is something new. The average death-rate at the hospital is from ten to twenty a month. We have more than exceeded that amount in but seven days."

DEATHS CAUSED BY HOT WEATHER

STOCKTON, July 11.—Twenty-one fatalities due to the hot weather have occurred at the Stockton State Hospital for the Insane within the last seven days. The record is something unprecedented. Dr. A. W. Holsholt of the medical staff of the hospital stated this afternoon that never in the history of the hospital have there been so many deaths in one week.

"We always expect more deaths during the hot weather," stated Dr. Holsholt. "But this is something new. The average death-rate at the hospital is from ten to twenty a month. We have more than exceeded that amount in but seven days."

ELKS LISTEN TO NEW PRESIDENT REPORTS FOR MEAT MEN

EXCELLENT SHOWING IS MADE BY THE GRAND OFFICERS.

BUFFALO, July 11.—At the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Elks held here today reports of officers were received.

The report of Grand Secretary Robinson contained the following:

The success of the past year has exceeded all expectations and has been most gratifying. Fifty-three new lodges have been added to the long list and those lodges already in existence have been materially strengthened by large accessions in membership. We have made an increase of 23,338 in membership, giving us today 983 lodges and a total membership of 300,940. With "quantity" of membership is coming "quality." The successful year just past is the best year in our history, now existing throughout our wide domain.

Last year there were six lodges with a membership of over 1,000; we now have several such lodges. Louisville dropped below the 1,000 mark, while Cincinnati and Spokane are up to the list. The number of lodges in the various divisions is: Brooklyn No. 22, 2,059; New York No. 1, 1,404; Detroit No. 34, 1,185; Philadelphia No. 2, 1,184; Chicago No. 4, 1,078; Spokane No. 228, 1,031; Cincinnati No. 1, 1,027.

The cash on hand May 31 was $116,902, the total assets $199,774, the liabilities only $4,666. The total surplus was $184,917, against $169,192 in 1904.

The financial statement of the Grand Lodge, B. P. O. E., presented by Grand Treasurer John K. Toner of Charleston, Pa., says that cash is on deposit to the amount of $111,039. This sum is distributed in four funds: the general fund containing $44,455, the home fund $12,250, the emergency fund $4,084 and the reserve fund $4,000.

During the year $10,000 has been added to the reserve fund. The per capita tax of 10 cents paid by the entire membership, now over 300,000, has been a great help.

The Elks' Home at Bedford City, Va., for indigent Elks, has been paid and $5,500 worth of property adjoining the home has been purchased.

MATTERS BEFORE PROBATE COURT

Application for letters of administration on the estate of the late D. G. Barstow, a nephew of Former Mayor Amos Barstow, who died recently in Alaska, was filed this morning by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barstow. The estate is said to consist of a life insurance policy for $2,000, but he also has some mining claims in Alaska of unknown value.

Petition for the probate of the will of the late Mildred Ann McSherry was filed with the County Clerk today by George L. Lewis of Alameda. The estate of the deceased is valued at about $20,000, and after two legacies of $500 each to Belle and John Hogan, two of her nieces, she leaves the remainder of her estate share and share alike to her nephews and nieces of the Hogan family and her sister, Mary Valentine.

An appraisal of the estate of the late Adolph J. Hahn was filed today by J. B. Leankree, William Zwigg and John Connors, who state that the property left by deceased is valued at $1,150. It consists of some lots in Alameda, which are valued at $1,000. Matthew Byrne has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Katherine Murphy by Judge Ogden.

JAP IS KILLED BY TRAIN

An unknown Japanese was killed some time last night at the end of the Oakland pier by an engine. His body was cut in three pieces. Just when the accident occurred or how is not known.

The fragments were seen by Engineer Clark of the Seventh street local this morning on his first run. He notified the pier officials, who in turn notified the coroner's office. The remains are now at the morgue.

COUNT CASSINI SAILS.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Count Cassini, the retiring Russian Ambassador to the United States sailed today for Bremen on the Kaiser Wilhelm II.

GRAND JURY TO TAKE UP CASE THIS AFTERNOON AND MAY INDICT THOSE WHO ASSISTED LAWYER TO ESCAPE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—George D. Collins, the bigamist, is now in British Columbia, or on his way there. He is accompanied by Charles McCurdy, his bigamous wife, the two having fled together. The police authorities have received information which makes them positive that Collins went as far north as Portland on the Southern Pacific, and that he has continued his flight from that city.

MRS. MCCURDY.

Mrs. Sarah McCurdy, the mother of Collins' bigamous spouse, has disappeared. She was probably taken flight, though the police hold somewhat tenaciously to a theory that she has not left San Francisco. If she is here and makes a move she will doubtless be snapped up by the detectives who are looking for her.

AN ATTACHMENT.

An attachment was levied this morning on Collins' library and other effects. This process was had by Detective Lucas, who some months ago, shadowed Charles McCurdy at Collins' request. Lucas is trying to recover some of the money due him for his services. Collins, with his accustomed finesse sought, before leaving, to place his property in such shape that his creditors would not be able to seize it.

GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury this afternoon investigate the facts connected with the departure of Collins from this city. Jacob Meyers, "Bogie" O'Donnell, Frank Kingdon and Attorney Michaels will be called and sworn to call all they know. Whether or not indictments will be returned against anyone remains to be seen. It is known that Jacob Meyers, one of Collins' law clerks, summoned O'Donnell last night for Friday morning. This afternoon O'Donnell engineered the movements of Collins and transported him across the bay.

DEVELOPMENTS OF DAY.

While the developments of the day in relation to the flight of George D. Collins, the bigamous lawyer, and his wife, Charles McCurdy, have been severe, the most important question agitating the officers at the present time is the exact whereabouts of the fugitive. District Attorney

BEATINGS HIS CREDITORS.

It has developed that Collins had planned to thwart those to whom he owed money. He had, some days ago, executed a bill of sale to Mrs. Sarah McCurdy, his bigamous wife, covering all his library and personal effects.

Mrs. McCurdy, in turn, had issued an authorization to Attorney Kingdon to dispose of the property as he saw fit, and this authorization was sprung by Kingdon on Lucas and the deputy sheriff. So there will have to be other court proceedings before the matter is cleared up. A host of other creditors will be anxious to join in the quest for a share of the money which the property represents.

HOPE TO CAPTURE HIM.

The police probably know a little more about this matter than they are ready to communicate at this time. Captain of Detectives Burnett declares positively, however, that he is sure Collins is in the north. Accordingly he has paid special attention to give notice to all northern police officials to be on the lookout for the fugitive bigamist, and he still has hopes of capturing the man and bringing him back for trial.

District Attorney Byington said this morning:

"I have had an intimation from a source which I believe is responsible that Collins and his wife passed Dunsmuir on their way north. I have also had an intimation that they stopped off somewhere between that place and Portland and that they were due to arrive at the latter city last night or this morning. If they did stop off they will surely be apprehended. However, we are inclined to believe that they did not wait, but went right on and hurried out of the country."

The police are hoping that they will receive a message from their northern correspondents before night shedding some definite light on the movements of the fugitive and his companion.

HOUSE WATCHED.

Detective Tom Gibson had the house watched all last night, but up until early afternoon he had made no report to the officials. Had he discovered any comings and goings he doubtless would have communicated the fact at once.

"COLLINS SHORT OF FIDDS."

That Collins personally was very short of funds is evidenced by the fact that during the past few days he has made a number of small borrowings.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The new system of preparing the monthly crop reports devised since the cotton investigations began was put in force today.

That report will be made a public law this afternoon, and Secretary Wilson believes that the steps taken to safeguard the figures were well nigh perfect.

At the day of the day, Secretary Eays, chief statistician, and several experts of the department were placed in a room under lock and key and were not permitted to come out until four o'clock in the afternoon. The telephone in the room had been disconnected and a careful scrutiny will be kept of the windows to avoid the possibility of a leak through private signals.

No communications of any sort have been received from Mr. Price or his attorney, and the secretary believes so far as the cotton investigation report is concerned it is a closed incident.

AT THE DEWEY.

The best bill that the Dewey Theater has put on since its opening is without doubt that offered this week. While every week's bill has been better than its predecessors, the acts as shown last night to a crowded house showed the estimation which the public has placed on this popular theater.

The leading attraction last night was Professor Dumbard's educated goats. This family of dumb beasts seems to understand every movement of the master trainer. The animals are excellently trained and furnish much amusement.

James T. Kelly and his portrayal of the character of "Baker" in "Mildred Ann" created shouts of laughter last night by his funny antics and absurdities. Kelly is a real comedian and draws a laugh at every turn. Richard Cummings as Muldoon is at his best and furnishes no end of amusement. Miss Merley and Miss Massey carry their roles very cleverly.

The specialties introduced are very clever.

Edison and Vane in the parlor sketch "Galates" have a very pretty act which received applause. Esco gives renders "The Heart to Forget" very effectively. A new series of moving pictures completes the best bill that has been offered.

CHOSIN JUSTICE OF PEACE.

MARTINEZ, July 11.—The Board of Supervisors for Contra Costa county yesterday morning appointed Charles H. Hayden to fill the office of Justice of the Peace left vacant by the death of Daniel S. Carpenter, whose funeral was held here on Friday.

The appointment of an attorney to represent the county in the election of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for the transacting of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

Oakland, Cal., July 11, 1905.

OFFICE OF THE BERKELEY ROCK COMPANY.

To the stockholders of the Berkeley Rock Company.—Please take notice that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Berkeley Rock Company will be held at the principal office of the company, in the city of Oakland, Alameda county, California, on Tuesday, the 1st day of August, 1905, at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing directors and for the transacting of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

The stock transfer book of the company will be closed on Thursday the 13th day of July, 1905, at 8 o'clock p. m. and will remain closed until Wednesday the 24th day of August, 1905, at 10 o'clock a. m. By order of the Board of Directors.

JAMES E. CRANE, Secretary.

Dated, July 11, 1905.

MRS. DANIELS ILL.

Mrs. Daniels, widow of the late Judge Daniels, and mother of G. B. Daniels, manager of the Enquirer, is seriously ill at her home.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., July 11.—Sam Morrow, a negro, has been placed in jail here, charged with having assaulted and then shot and killed Mary Coleman, a fifteen-year-old white girl. There is much talk of a lynching.

WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Mrs. Lizette McCoy, aged 71 years, died suddenly at her home, 765 Grove street, this morning. She had complained of being sick for several days. She went to bed last night as usual, but when her room was entered this morning she was found to be dead. Heart trouble is supposed to be the cause of death. As there was no physician in attendance the case was reported to the Morgue.

BELL THEATER.

Two large audiences were not disappointed at the Bell Theater last night. The program in its entirety was one of the best that has been presented for some time. All the numbers are of merit and in fact the entire bill is one that no one should fail to see. W. C. Wilson sang, by special request, "Mandy Lee" and although an old song, it was sung in such a beautiful manner that he was cheered.

And the talented little child, Madeline, presented one of the prettiest and best written sketches that have been seen in some time entitled, "Thou Shalt Not Steal." Holton & Hayes made a hit the moment they faced the audience, and it almost seemed impossible that two men can work as hard and do the grotesque work and keep the audiences in such an uproar of laughter as they did for eight minutes.

Richard Burton, billed as Australia's leading actor singer, upheld his share by acting and singing in a very thorough manner. The pictures were of the comedy order and brought forth a great deal of laughter.

Colored piano players, is exceptionally good, and taken all in all, they made a hit throughout their act. The program will no doubt appeal to ladies and children and the matinees will be well attended.

NOT VOTER DIES AS FORETOLD IN COUNTY

Senator Ralston Did Not Complete His Registration Here.

A few weeks ago when the announcement was made that State Senator William C. Ralston intended to become a candidate for Senator from Alameda to succeed Senator M. C. Simpson, the present incumbent, it was accompanied by the statement that he had registered here and had thus become a resident of Alameda county and was, as a consequence, eligible to the Senate from this county.

NO RECORD OF REGISTRATION.

If such registration took place there is no record of it in the office of County Clerk Jack Cook, and Mr. Cook says that he would have the proof if the record had been made.

Senator Ralston, as a consequence, at this time, is ineligible to office in this county though, of course, sufficient time is yet available for him to comply with the law in order to enable him to make the race in question in which, however, Alamedians say J. C. Bates has already run a number of laps.

APPLIED FOR REGISTRATION.

In this connection, it has been discovered that Senator Ralston intended to register in this county but was prevented from doing so by certain requirements of the law which were brought to his attention by County Clerk Jack Cook.

Senator Ralston said he would do as pointed out, write to the Clerk of Calaveras county and have his registration cancelled. Whether he has done so or not, I don't know. I have received no notification of the cancellation in Calaveras county.

NO AFFIDAVIT.

Clerk Cook then looked through a bunch of registration affidavits which have come to him from deputies in all parts of the county but among them could be found nothing showing Senator Ralston's compliance with the law, even in this county.

Continuing, Mr. Cook said:

"Senator Ralston could have registered in Fresno, but the affidavit would be there if he had done so."

SENATORSHIP IN CALAVERAS.

Friends of Senator Ralston say that he had an idea that he could aspire to the Senate from Calaveras county simply by registering here and yet allow his name stand on the great register in Calaveras county. These also declare that when he discovered that he could be a citizen in only one county at a time and that official position simply followed citizenship, he was convinced that if he abandoned his residence in Calaveras county, he could not only Calaveras county but also the counties of Alpine, Amador, El Dorado and Mono.

This position Senator Ralston still holds and is entitled to it until his successor has been elected and qualified. In the event of his abandoning that county and of the Governor calling a special session of the Legislature, the people of the Tenth Senatorial District would be obliged to hold a special election to fill the vacancy for a short term of only a few weeks, perhaps.

It is said, accordingly, that the Senator would have abandoned his public life in the Tenth District, more especially when he was induced by the most astute politicians in the Tenth District to become a citizen of the Tenth District and that they would have nothing undone to secure such a plum.

WOMAN KILLED BY TRAIN.

An Out-Spoken Letter To The Public.

TO WHOM THIS MAY CONCERN:

It has been well said that better than great riches is an established reputation for honesty and square dealing. In the long run no man ever loses anything by open, frank dealing--by taking his customers into his full confidence. That is the way I felt when I decided to take those who may be benefited by the use of my well-known medicines "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription" which are to be found in every drug store of the land, into my full confidence and tell them just what ingredients enter into the composition of these well-known medicines. I recall that in the practice of my chosen profession, I have often noticed that very many of my patients have wanted to know what I had prescribed for them to take. It's but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he is expected to swallow. It is not unreasonable that we should have some regard for what we take into our stomachs, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

A BADGE OF HONESTY ON EACH BOTTLE.

Reasoning along the above line and having nothing to conceal from the thousands who take my family medicines, and thinking that the great majority of my patients would probably like to know what they are taking, I am now printing on the wrapper of each bottle of my medicines the ingredients of which it is composed. I feel that I can afford to take my patients into my full confidence, for my remedies contain nothing but such ingredients as have been approved and endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities--men who have stood at the very head of the medical profession in this country. (SEE ENDORSEMENTS BELOW.)

Sincerely,
Dr. J. C. Pierce

ALTERNATIVE EXTRACT OR
Golden Medical Discovery

This medicine is a superior remedy for the cure of all severe, chronic, or lingering Coughs, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Weak Lungs, Bleeding from Lungs, public speakers' Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Suppression or Loss of Voice. It does not nauseate, or debilitate the stomach or system, as other cough medicines do, but, on the contrary, improves digestion, strengthens the stomach, builds up solid flesh when reduced below a healthy standard by disease, and invigorates and cleanses the whole system. As a remedy for Torpor of the Liver (generally termed "Liver Complaint" or "Biliousness"), and for habitual Constipation of the Bowels, it has no equal. For loss of Appetite, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for General or Nervous Debility or Prostration, in either sex, it is a very superior medicine. As an alternative, or blood purifier, this medicine is far superior to any preparation of arsenic, iodine, iodide of potassium, or any other medicine now offered for general sale. It is, therefore, very valuable in all forms of Scrofulous and other Blood Diseases; also for all Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Pimples, Boils, and Blisters. Boils, Ulcers, Sores, and Swellings, arising from Impure Blood, are cured by the use of a few bottles of this compound. Unlike other Alternatives or blood-cleansing medicines, it does not debilitate, but strengthens the system. THIS IS A VERY CONCENTRATED, VEGETABLE EXTRACT. The dose is small and pleasant to the taste. FULL DIRECTIONS FOR ITS USE will be found in the pamphlet which is wrapped around each bottle.

MANUFACTURED BY THE CHEMICAL LABORATORY OF WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Proprietors,
BUFFALO, N. Y.

See Smiles Signature of the Discoverer.

Endorsed by Leading Medical Writers.

THE sick don't have to take Dr. Pierce's word alone as to the efficacy of his medicines, for every ingredient contained in them has been extolled, over and over again, by leading medical writers. (See extracts below from several standard authors.) Inasmuch as the people place confidence in Dr. Pierce and his medicines, there is nothing to fear from taking the public into his full confidence and frankly giving them the formula for his medicines, thus reciprocating the confidence reposed in him. His patients may now know exactly what they are swallowing when they take these medicines. The ingredients are printed in plain English, on the wrapper of each bottle that leaves the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y. This is a very unusual thing for a manufacturer of proprietary medicines to do. In fact, Dr. Pierce stands quite alone in this respect.

Truth is Mighty.

SO many false formulas and malicious statements concerning his medicines have been published through the connivance of jealous competitors and disgruntled doctors, that he is determined to completely disarm his assailants by a full and frank statement of their composition. He acts upon the belief that "Truth is mighty and must prevail," while fraud is a bubble that must soon burst.

Medicines of Known Composition.

IF suffering from an obstinate malady which would one naturally prefer to take, a medicine of known composition, every ingredient of which has the endorsement of the most eminent medical practitioners and writers, or one which, for aught you may know, may be made up of very inefficient and even harmful agents? Is it not best to know upon knowing what one is taking, as is every one's right, whether being prescribed by the family physician or making use of a proprietary remedy? We think so, especially in view of the very disparaging articles concerning various advertised remedies with which the drug and medical journals have been filled for months past. Dr. Pierce courts the severest criticism of the medical profession as to the value of his published formula, confident that he will receive fair treatment from all fair-minded, well qualified brethren of the medical profession who cannot be blamed for not endorsing medicines of the composition of which they and the people are kept in ignorance.

No Alcohol Used.

DR. PIERCE never believed it necessary to advise his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women, or his "Golden Medical Discovery," the well-known alternative tonic, which is so largely used as a remedy for indigestion, torpid liver, bad blood and kindred ailments. Over forty years ago, he discovered that chemically pure glycerine is a far better solvent of most of the active principles residing in our native medicinal plants, when used at a proper and sustained temperature, than is alcohol; and, furthermore, he found that a glyceric extract kept much better than an alcoholic one, and that the glycerine possessed intrinsic remedial value, being demulcent, nutritive and an effective anti-ferment. Although costing somewhat more, Doctor Pierce predicts that glyceric medicinal extracts will, in the not distant future, largely replace alcoholic ones so generally prescribed by physicians and put out by proprietary or "patent medicine" manufacturers as being more efficient and entirely free from the serious objection of making inebriates when used in lingering or chronic cases, where a somewhat protracted use of medicine is necessary, no matter how good or well adapted to the case it may be, in order to obtain permanent results.

Yours truly,
Dr. J. C. Pierce

Ask Your Family Physician

A medicine scientifically prepared from just the right proportion of each of the following ingredients must not in proper doses be a splendid tonic, restorative and nerve for weak, nervous, worn-out women. If he is an honest, fair-minded man, well up in his profession, and not given to extreme jealousy, he will answer in the affirmative. The ingredients are: Blue Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Golden Seal root, Black Cohosh root, Lady's Slipper root and chemically pure Glycerine of proper specific gravity. These are the ingredients combined in just the right proportions, from which, with proper apparatus and appliances, Dr. Pierce makes a non-alcoholic glyceric extract, working after a process which cost him and his collaborating chemists and pharmacists a long time study and a tedious and painstaking course of experiments, before he was able to produce, in satisfactory perfection, the two leading medicines which bear his name and which are generally acknowledged to be elegant pharmaceutical compounds.

A Weak, Ailing Woman

OR an invalid man, don't need to take Doctor Pierce's word alone as to the remedial virtues of his medicines. To any one writing Dr. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., care of Invalids' Hotel, he will take great pleasure in mailing a little book of extracts made up from the standard medical books of the day, giving the most trustworthy endorsement of the several ingredients used in making his medicines. No words of ours could possibly extol these virtues to exceed the language used in these numerous references.

On account of lack of space, we can only print, below on this page, a few brief extracts from standard writers on Materia Medica, to show that the ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are composed, are to-day acknowledged by all schools of medicine, to be the most valuable remedial agents known for the several diseases for which we recommend these medicines. Forty years ago, when Dr. Pierce began the use of these several ingredients in his daily practice many of them were little known to medical practitioners in general. As an indication how some of them have grown in use and professional favor since that time, we note that Golden Seal root, which could then be bought in the open market at from fifteen to twenty-five cents a pound, is to-day worth upwards of one dollar and fifty cents a pound. Lady's Slipper root ("American Valerian") has also advanced greatly in professional favor, and is to-day prescribed by the most advanced physicians to such an extent as to have caused its market value to quadruple.

We point to these significant facts as confirmation of Dr. Pierce's good judgment in selecting the component ingredients, of which he makes his now wide-renowned remedies.

WORDS OF PRAISE
FOR INGREDIENTS OF
DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
From Eminent Medical Writers.

Dr. BARTELOW, a recognized authority on Materia Medica and Therapeutics, says of Hydrastis (Golden Seal): "Very useful as a stomachic tonic (stomach tonic) and in atonic dyspepsia. Cures gastric catarrh (catarrh of stomach) and headaches accompanying same. In catarrh of the gall duct and jaundice, it is of especial utility. Constipation, dependent upon different deficient secretions, with hard and dry stools may be overcome by the remedy. Chronic catarrh of the intestines, even if it has proceeded to ulceration, is remarkably benefited by Hydrastis. In fissure of the anus, hemorrhage (bleeding) from the rectum, and ulceration of the rectal mucous membrane, Hydrastis produces healing. It may be given as a remedy for intermittent, chronic and malarial poisoning, and enlarged spleen of malarial origin. It lessens the secretion of albumin in chronic Bright's disease, diminishes mucus in catarrh of the bladder. It may be expected to do much good in cases of paresis and paralysis, when the lesions causing them are not of recent origin; also in paralysis succeeding fever and other acute diseases. Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia and congestive dysmenorrhea. Locally good in uterine and vaginal leucorrhoea, ulceration and erosion of the cervix, unhealthy and sloughing sores and old ulcers of the leg." The foregoing is certainly a wonderfully strong endorsement of one of Dr. Pierce's chief ingredients used in "Golden Medical Discovery," and also in his "Favorite Prescription."

BLACK CHERRYBARK (Prunus Virginiana).
ROBERT BARTHELOW says: "Wild Cherrybark is an excellent stomachic tonic; it has long been held in great esteem in domestic practice, as a remedy in catarrhal states of the bronchial mucous membrane and in Phthisis (Consumption)." "The syrup is much used as an ingredient in cough mixtures."

QUEEN'S ROOT (Silifolia).
Prof. JOHN KING, M. D., says: "An alternative unsurpassed by few if any other of the known alternatives most successful in skin and scrofulous affections. Beneficial in bronchial affections--permanently cures bronchitis--relieves irritations--an important cough remedy--coughs of years standing being cured. Aids in blood-making and nutrition, and may be taken without harm for long periods."

MANDRAKE ROOT (Podophyllum).
Certain, sure cathartic; leaves bowels in improved condition. A gentle stimulant tonic; improves the appetite. Particularly valuable in dyspepsia, gastric and intestinal catarrh. Beneficial in some affections of bladder.

BLOODROOT (Sanguinaria).
Stimulates digestive organs, increases action of heart and arteries--stimulant and tonic. A very valuable in a cough remedy--also as a sedative--extremely valuable as a STONE ROOT (Collinsonia Canadensis).

Alternative, tonic, stimulant. Valuable in laryngitis--"Ministers sore throat." In diseases of stomach and intestines--improves appetite, promotes flow of gastric juice; tonic effect upon organs involved. A good remedy in indigestion, dyspepsia, chronic gastritis, increasing the secretion from kidneys and skin. The foregoing four, several extracts are all taken from the American Dispensary, by Professors KING and SCUDDER.

Prof. WM. PAINE, M. D., of the old Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery, in his work entitled "The Medical Properties and Uses of Concentrated Medicines," writing of Collinsonia (the active medicinal principle residing in Collinsonia Canadensis, or Stone Root), says: "I, not long since, had a patient who was so much oppressed with a valvular disease of the heart, that his friends were obliged to carry him up stairs. He, however, gradually recovered under the influence of Collinsonia, and is now attending to his business. Heretofore physicians knew of no remedy for the removal of so distressing and so dangerous a malady. With them it was a case of guess-work, and it fearfully warned the afflicted that death was near at hand. Collinsonia unquestionably affords relief in such cases, and in most instances effects a cure." He further says: "In a case of persistent ascites (dropsy), where the ordinary remedies fail to afford anything more than a temporary relief, Collinsonia produced a permanent cure."

The above are strong endorsements of one of the most valuable ingredients contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," viz., Collinsonia, or stone root. Its virtues however are not over-estimated, as we can attest from our experience and observation in watching the beneficial action of the "Discovery" in heart affections, laryngitis, bronchitis, incipient consumption and other ailments noted above.

BLUE COHOSH (Caulophyllum).

Of Caulophyllum (Blue Cohosh), RAFFINESQUE states that: "As a powerful emmenagogue it promotes menstruation and dropsical discharges, and that it was employed by the Indians for rheumatism, dropsy, epilepsy, hysterics, inflammation of the uterus, etc." Prof. JOHN KING, M. D., says: "As a parturient preparator, Blue Cohosh has enjoyed a well-merited reputation. When used by delicate women, or those who experience prolonged and painful labors, for several weeks previous to confinement, it gives tone and vigor to all the parts engaged in the accomplishment, facilitating its progress, and relieving much suffering." Prof. HALE testifies that women who have taken Caulophyllum previous to confinement, have over-run their time from ten to twelve days, but all had very easy labors and made good recoveries. Blue Cohosh acts as an anodyne by relieving the irritation upon which the trouble depends. KING states that for this purpose it is fully equal to viburnum. He continues: "It has been employed to relieve irritation of the reproductive organs dependent on congestion. It controls chronic inflammatory states of the organs and gives tone in cases of debility. In the sexual disorders of the female it is indicated by tenderness and pain in the uterus. In debilitated patients, it has been very successfully used in cases of hysteria to overcome the attack, and to relieve ovarian, or mammary pain, or irritation when accompanying that disorder. Chronic ovarialgia, uterine leucorrhoea, amenorrhoea (suppressed menstruation) and dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation), are conditions in which it has been most successfully employed. It has an established reputation as a remedy for rheumatism of the uterus, with nervous excitement, for uterine cramps attending menstruation, and for menorrhagia (bleeding)."

UNICORN ROOT (Chamaelirium).

The American Dispensary (prepared by Professors KING and SCUDDER), says: "Helonias, or Unicorn root, has been found beneficial in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and for the removal of worms. It is more especially applicable in indigestion, dyspepsia and mal-assimilation, where the trouble is reflex from, or associated with, worms of the female reproductive apparatus. Such digestive disturbances as depend upon uterine and ovarian irritation, or upon lack of uterine activity, in chlorotic anemia, are benefited by it. It is valuable in atony (weakness) of the generative organs." Prof. KING says, "have found this plant to possess a decidedly beneficial influence in cases of sexual lassitude in both sexes, the result of excesses, especially in those instances where there are symptoms of gastric (stomach) derangement with impaired memory, mental apathy, or indifference, and an enfeebled condition of the general system, with weakness or dull pain in the renal or lumbosacral (small of the back) region. In diseases of the reproductive organs of females, and especially of acting as a uterine tonic, and gradually removing abnormal conditions, while, at the same time it imparts tone and vigor to the reproductive organs. Hence, it is much used in leucorrhoea, amenorrhoea, dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation), and in cases of sexual prostration, or debility, it is a powerful tonic, and a remedy for the tendency to repeated and successive miscarriages. A particular phase of its action is its effect in relieving the tendency to repeated and successive miscarriages. A particular phase of its action is its effect in relieving the tendency to repeated and successive miscarriages. A particular phase of its action is its effect in relieving the tendency to repeated and successive miscarriages."

down organs feel as if they would fall out of the body. Its action here is very decided. It is considered useful by some for the relief of the vomiting of pregnancy. Helonias is a decided tonic to the urinary tract."

BLACK COHOSH.

(Cimicifuga racemosa, Squawroot, Etc.).

Prof. JOHN KING, in the American Dispensary says: "This is a very active, powerful and useful remedy, and appears to fulfill a great number of indications. It possesses an undoubted influence over the nervous system. In small doses the appetite and digestion are improved." He continues, "Upon the reproductive organs it exerts a specific influence, promoting the menstrual discharge." "Macrotis (Black Cohosh) plays a very important part in the therapeutics of Gynecology (diseases of women). In the painful conditions incident to imperfect menstruation, its remedial action is fully displayed. By its special affinity for the female reproductive organs, it is an efficient agent for the restoration of suppressed menses. In dysmenorrhea (painful periods) it is surpassed by no other drug, being of greatest utility in irregular and congestive conditions of the uterus and appendages, characterized by tense, dragging pains, resembling the pains of rheumatism. It is a good remedy for the reflex side-ache of the uterus, and the uterine cramps should be remembered in rheumatism of the uterus, and in leucorrhoea. When there is a disordered action or lack of functional power in the uterus, giving rise to sterility, cimicifuga (Black Cohosh) often corrects the impaired condition and cures. Reflex uterine pains during gestation are met by it, and in rheumatic subjects it promptly relieves such ovarian troubles as ovarialgia and neuralgia. Its action is slow, but its effects are permanent. It has been used successfully as an antispasmodic in hysteria, epilepsy when due to menstrual failings, periodical convulsions, nervous excitability, and many other spasmodic affections."

LADY'S SLIPPER ROOT (Cypripedium).

Prof. JOHN M. SCUDDER says: "This root is valuable in all cases of nervous excitability or irritability unconnected with organic lesions, allaying the irritability, lessening any accompanying pain, producing a more calm and cheerful condition of the body and mind, and consequently favoring mental tranquility, or sleep. Hence it has been of service in hysteria, chorea, nervous headache, wakefulness and prostration in low fevers, epilepsy from reflex irritation, and, indeed, in all cases of morbid irritability of the nervous system, from functional derangement or reflex irritation. It will be found very efficient in the nervousness, hypochondria, or mental depression accompanying certain forms of derangement of the digestive organs, which is more generally met with among females." "The foregoing are only a few brief extracts taken from amongst the voluminous endorsements which the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have received from the most eminent medical writers of all the different schools of medicine. After reading them can any reasonable person doubt that Dr. Pierce has selected and compounded his "Favorite Prescription" from the most valuable ingredients known to the medical profession for the cure of those chronic diseases of women for which he recommends it?"

WORDS OF PRAISE

FOR INGREDIENTS OF

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

From well recognized authorities of all Schools of Medicine.

What EDWIN M. HALE, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica, at Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, says: "Among the earliest medical writers of this country was Prof. RAFFINESQUE, a scientific botanist and a ripe scholar. He thus writes of Hydrastis (Golden Seal). Internally, it is used as a bitter tonic in disorders of the stomach, liver, etc." Dr. HALE continues: "HOWARD, writing in 1836, says: 'It is very useful in recovery from fever, for dyspepsia, indigestion, sore eyes, ulcers, loss of appetite, etc.'"
"Dr. BARTON and Dr. TULLY estimated it very highly as a pure tonic, and as an alternative in diseased conditions of the mucous membranes."
"Prof. JOHN KING, M. D., gives it a prominent place among medicinal agents; reiterates all that previous writers have said about it, and adds that it is valuable in chronic affections of the mucous membrane of the stomach, intestines, bladder, etc."

The Pope and Italian Politics.

Whether the encyclical of the Pope calling upon Catholics throughout Italy to vote and take an active part in politics means that the attitude of the Vatican toward the Monarchy has changed is conjectural, but beyond question it will operate to strengthen the hands of the King in the national parliament. It will check the growing power of the Socialists, and insure a firm and stable administration under a conservative ministry.

As Cardinal Sarto, the present Pontiff was kindly disposed to the House of Savoy, and he was counted as a believer in Italian unity, but up to this time he has adhered to the policy announced by Pío Nono, and continued by Leo XIII, of total abstention from political affairs. When Victor Emmanuel I seized the Territories of the Church, the Italian Parliament at the instigation of the King voted the Papacy an annual subvention of $600,000 a year as compensation for the loss of its dominions and the extinguishment of the Pontiff's sovereign powers. Pío Nono refused to accept the subsidy on the ground that to do so would be to condone an act of spoliation and usurpation. Leo XIII followed in his predecessor's footsteps, though his personal attitude toward the Monarchy was less resentful than that of Pius.

However, Leo rigidly adhered to the non expedit encyclical of Pius commanding all Catholics in Italy to abstain from participation in elections or taking service under the Crown. This inhibition has kept probably a third of the inhabitants of Italy from taking part in parliamentary elections. In consequence the radicals, who are anti-church as well as anti-monarchy, have been gathering increased strength year by year. Meanwhile the subsidy voted to the Papacy has been allowed to accumulate unclaimed in the Italian treasury. It now amounts to a large sum.

The new Pontiff has shown no disposition to touch this money as yet notwithstanding the financial straits of the Vatican, but he has reversed Pío Nono's policy with reference to participation in politics with a decision which admits of no misunderstanding. His encyclical has been received with undisguised satisfaction by the government organs and is gratifying to conservatives of all classes, but whether it means that an entente cordiale has been established between the Vatican and the Quirinal remains to be seen. It may be that the Pontiff has concluded that it is necessary for the church to take measures to protect itself from the destructive tendencies of the Socialists. Perhaps he thinks that conservatives of all classes should present a united front against the growing power of Socialism.

At any rate the Socialists are ten times more hostile to the church than is the Monarchy. All the members of the royal family are devout Catholics. The King is careful to pay the greatest marks of respect to the Pontiff. The Papacy is secure in Rome under the Monarchy, and within the Vatican the Pope is absolute master. He holds a court and receives ambassadors accredited to him by foreign powers. The Socialists desire to abolish all this. They are more hostile to the church if anything than to the Monarchy. They cry, "Down with the Pope!" and "Down with the King!" with equal fervor. They are largely led by atheists, and are bent on destroying ecclesiastical power as they are on overturning the Monarchy. Hence His Holiness may have decided that the threat of Socialism was endangering the peace and security of the church. We will now see for the first time since Victor Emmanuel entered Rome the so-called "Black Families"—the ancient nobility still faithful to the church—active in politics and taking service under the grandson and namesake of the despoiler of the Papacy.

It comes rather as a shock to be told that American rails for the Panama railroad can be bought for less money in Liverpool than they can be bought for in New York. Here is a fact that hits the purchase-at-home theory below the belt.

Buying peace is no new thing in Philadelphia. William Penn began by buying it from the Indians. His successors have been buying it from the politicians.

Tom Lawson busted his throat during the first round of his Kansas speech-making tour, but the Standard Oil Company is still doing business at the old stand. Apparently the jawbone of an ass is not the mighty weapon it was in Samson's day.

The Chinese in Hawaii have added gaiety to the discussion started by Secretary Taft's visit by holding a mass meeting at which the exclusion law was denounced and the Chinese boycott of American goods endorsed. At the same time news comes from China that the boycott is being pushed with even greater vigor since the President issued the order for a more liberal interpretation of the exclusion act. This is but contributory evidence that the real object of the boycott is not to secure a relaxation in the enforcement of the exclusion law, but to secure the abrogation of the law itself. The success gained by the issuance of the President's order has only emboldened the Chinese to crowd on more steam and increase their demands. There is a cool impudence, however, about Chinese living in American territory under protection of the American flag urging their countrymen in China to continue the boycott on American goods that is refreshing. The Mongols appear to think they have Uncle Sam on the run.

The Persecuted Socialists.

The Socialists are clamoring that they are being persecuted for opinion's sake because the police authorities are enforcing the ordinance which forbids public meetings in the streets. Their clamor is not justified. They are not being discriminated against. They have deliberately invited the action of the police by nightly blocking the public highways with mass meetings. It is not because they are Socialists that they are interfered with, but because they are interfering with the lawful use of the streets for the purpose for which they were dedicated. Socialists have as much right to the streets as other people—but no more. They have the same right to their opinions that other people have to theirs—no more. They insist upon challenging the law as an infringement of their personal liberty, when the law does nothing of the kind. If other political parties insisted upon holding mass meetings in the streets, riot, tumult and disorder would follow, and the transaction of business during exciting political campaigns would be virtually impossible. Because members of other political organizations obey the law without protest is no reason why the Socialists should be permitted to violate it with impunity. Putting up a blind man to do the speaking and make himself liable to arrest is merely a cunning diversion. It reveals the subtle character of the attack on the law that the Socialists are making. They are seeking trouble, not trying to avoid it. When they cry out against alleged persecution they are simply clamoring to be allowed to override and break down the law forbidding political assemblages in the streets. When they have succeeded in breaking down that ordinance they will seek some other legal enactment to override and break down. If any man disbelieves this let him quietly investigate among the Socialist leaders. He will find that these men are leading a crusade against laws in general, which they declare were made by capital for the benefit of capitalists. They are playing a blind man against the law to disguise their real purpose. They use women and cripples for the same reason. Their scheme is to keep on infringing the law till they break it down. When the law is enforced they cry persecution. That is the business in a nutshell.

The Japanese in Saghalien.

The events of the present war have clearly demonstrated that Vladivostok is of little or no strategic value to Russia so far as Japan is concerned, but whatever value it has, politically speaking, is entirely neutralized by the Japanese occupation of Saghalien Island. The port is blocked with ice five months in the year and is commanded by the Japanese coasts. Besides, it is so isolated and far removed from any other naval base as to render it practically useless for offensive purposes. During the present war a large garrison has been kept there in idleness merely to guard against Japanese attack, while the Japanese themselves have been at small pains to keep the port blockaded. Its commerce has been practically destroyed. With the Japanese in possession of Saghalien, Vladivostok is completely blocked as a sea outlet. Saghalien is valuable to Japan chiefly for its fisheries and its strategic position at the mouth of the Amur. It is a bleak, barren, inhospitable land with few natural resources and no commercial advantages. It is probable that the Japanese have seized it pending negotiations with the intention of holding it permanently as a guard over the coast of Siberia. The character of its inhabitants is a drawback to its possession, however, that will embarrass Japanese administration. The population is made up mainly of the lowest order of criminals, still more brutalized by a barbarous prison system and exile in a land devoid of the comforts and accessories of modern civilized life. But the Japanese government probably had a carefully thought-out plan of dealing with the problems which will confront it before the occupation of the island was decided on; and it must be admitted that the Japanese have developed a marked talent for administration in Formosa, Korea and Manchuria. It may be taken for granted, therefore, that they will be able to successfully cope with the situation.

OUT IN 'FRISCO

The following verses were written by Mr. Collier, the proprietor of Collier's Weekly while on a visit to San Francisco recently. They were originally printed in the Stockton Mail, and were copied in THE TRIBUNE. They are republished by request.

There is lots of time to burn
Out in 'Frisco;
There's a devil of a lot to learn
Out in 'Frisco;
Where they make their human matches
To end with single scratches
And husbands mix their latches,
Out in 'Frisco.

There the red light is contagious,
Out in 'Frisco;
And their conduct is outrageous,
Out in 'Frisco;
In the famous French cafes,
With their naughty little ways,
That's the place where Cupid plays,
Out in 'Frisco.

You get next at Sanguinetti's,
Out in 'Frisco;
Where the girls forget their pretties,
Out in 'Frisco;
And the blood-red native wine
Mixes up the clinging vine,
And she calls you "Baby Mine,"
Out in 'Frisco.

Next day you meet at Zinkand's
Out in 'Frisco;
And you hold the dear girl's hands,
Out in 'Frisco;
Dry Martini, then another,
Then she telephones to mother
She'll take dinner with her brother,
Out in 'Frisco.

If in Poodle Dog a crowd—
Out in 'Frisco;
Disturbs your nerves with noises loud,
Out in 'Frisco;
You will go just one floor up,
And in privacy you'll sup,
Close beside your buttercup,
Out in 'Frisco.

Or if in the elevator,
Out in 'Frisco;
In parlance of the waiter,
Out in 'Frisco;
You more quiet wish to be,
You will ask to stop at three,
Just to see what you can see,
Out in 'Frisco.

There you find the rooms en suite—
Out in 'Frisco;
And the "outfit's" hard to beat—
Out in 'Frisco;
But if your conscience becomes rife
Because it's another fellow's wife,
Just remember this is life,
Out in 'Frisco.

When you finally cash in
Out in 'Frisco;
And you end this life of sin,
Out in 'Frisco;
They will gently toll a bell,
Plant your carcass in a dell,
No need to go to hell,
You're in 'Frisco.

THE SOCIALISTS AND THE STREETS

At Oakland on Wednesday evening last a blind Socialist orator was arrested for making a speech in a public place without first obtaining a permit from Mayor Mott. And it was reported that the Mayor had no disposition to allow Socialists to do any public speaking in future.

It appears, however, from an interview in THE TRIBUNE last evening, that the Mayor disavows any intention to discriminate against Socialists. He says he sees no harm in allowing them to air their views, but he objects to indiscriminate blocking of the street by cranks or other persons.

Certainly the Socialists have as much right as the Republicans, Democrats, Populists or Salvation Army bands to the use of streets and parks for speechmaking or other means of spreading theories or doctrines. There should be no discrimination. But the public have the right to the free and unobstructed use of the streets, and this should be protected.

The arrest at Oakland was made under a city ordinance which has been sustained by the local courts. It makes no discrimination against any class of speakers.—Sacramento Bee.

SPEAKING ON THE STREETS

H. D. HOUGHAM MAKES SOME SUGGESTIONS TO MAYOR
MOTT.

OAKLAND, July 10, 1905.

Editor TRIBUNE: It seems that the old fight is on again about the use of our streets for public speaking, and I see by the papers that our Mayor is trying to make himself appear sarcastic by sneeringly remarking that this talk of curtailing free speech is all nonsense—let them go and hunt a hall and they can have free speech to their hearts' content—and throwing out the thing that the persons that he does not see fit to give a permit are crazy. Now if our Mayor will take the trouble to look into some law library he will find that the ordinance under which he assumes all of this authority is clearly unconstitutional and void, and when a test case has been so decided there will be some cases of false arrest to be settled afterward.

He will find in that library the decisions of more than a dozen Supreme Courts of our States all to the same point, to wit, that a legislative body like a City Council cannot delegate their legislative functions to an individual, that a law to regulate the use of the streets of the city must be a general law and give all people the same privileges alike. Our State constitution provides against class legislation or special privileges to any one. But our Mayor seems to think that the derisives of Egypt, the dances from Africa with their tom-toms and incantations, the Flute Indian with his bazoo and medicine man, the Volunteers of America with their drums and harps, the Salvation Army with their tambourines and horns, the high-rollers with their swaying bodies and sorters, the fortune-telling gypsies with their delusions, and other bodies of like nature these seem to demand and get from our Mayor special privileges, with a full and clear swing to roam, march and speak when and where they will. That he seems to be using his delegated legislative function that he derived from the City Council in violation of the constitution of this State in the interest of these people, but when the laboring men of this city want to talk about something that will be for the comfort and happiness of themselves and families in this world, he refuses to give them the same privileges he does the others and tries to curtail their right. No one denies the right of the State Legislature to pass a law to regulate the use of the streets of a city, to see that the streets are not blocked or the sidewalks crowded, and prohibit noise or any other infringement of the people's comfort, convenience or right; but free speech, between two or a hundred persons, they have no right to prohibit. Mayor Mott will find before his term of office expires that the laboring people of this city have some rights under the constitution of the United States and the State of California that he will have to respect.

KING EDWARD ENDS FEUD BETWEEN THE ASTORS CAUSED BY LEADERSHIP

THIS MAN READY TO GO TO JAIL BEFORE HE WILL KISS HIS WIFE OR LOOK AT BABY AT JUDGE'S ORDER.

CAN COURT FORCE GEORGE LINDSAY TO LOVE HIS FAMILY AGAIN? — "RUBBISH," SAYS LINDSAY — "IF GEORGE WOULD GET INTO THE WAY OF KISSING ME MAYBE HE'D LOVE ME ONCE MORE," THINKS WIFE.

NEW YORK, July 11.—George Lindsay must either kiss his wife and look at his baby at least once every day or go to jail. The Lindsay has trouble and Magistrate Higginbotham, before whom the case was taken, issued this order as the best means of restoring harmony in the family. Lindsay's wife says she is only too ready to comply with the mandate from the bench but her husband declares he will go to prison before he will obey it. Mrs. Lindsay spent yesterday with her mother but returned to prepare her husband's dinner. The meal over he disappeared and the girl wife, with her baby in its carriage, started to find companionship among the neighbors. The oil lamp burned dimly and dimly in the home until the two returned, driven back by the lateness of the hour. "Funny, isn't it how a man will change," said the young wife, reflectively. "Now when George was wanting me to marry him he did not need to be told by any one to kiss me. I did not even need to give him one little hint."

ANY KIND OF KISSES BETTER THAN NONE. I am so glad Magistrate Higginbotham told George he must kiss me. I would rather he did not have to be told, but it is so long since I have been kissed that any kind of kisses are better than none. Maybe if my husband does as the court ordered him to do he will turn sweetheart again. I am ready to help George obey the Judge's order, if he will only let me. Once no one needed to give him even the slightest hint. He was so nice and jolly then. Statement of Mrs. George Lindsay, the Unkissed Wife.

I WILL KISS WHOM AND WHEN I CHOOSE. Kiss my wife because the court says I must? Not on your life! I'll go to jail before I am deprived of the freedom to kiss whom and when I choose. A man can't be forever trying to please a woman. There's work for him to do. When he's done he wants to go home, not to kiss, but to eat a good dinner. I've had to cook my own dinners. My wife would be gone somewhere when I came in and there would be nothing to eat. Statement by George Lindsay, ordered by the court to kiss his wife and look at his baby at least once every day. "He thought I had the prettiest mouth in the world, or at least he said so. I believed him. Even now I think he meant it—then. But it is so long since I have had one little kiss. He got so business-like after we got married. For a while I coaxed him to kiss me goodby when he left in the morning. But they were wooden kisses he gave when I asked for them. And by and by he quit altogether. "I wonder how that Judge understood things so well? Queer, wasn't it? It seemed marriage spoiled George. He took everything for granted then. And a woman wants to be made love to a bit. It makes life so much easier." "Rubbish, every word of it," declared the husband. "A man has to make a living, and he hasn't time to be making love all the time to his wife. He marries to have a home and be comfortable. He can't be trying to please a woman forever." "As for kissing my wife because a Judge says so—well, just see me do it. This is a new ruling in law, I am told. Fine time the Judge will have if the women begin appealing to the Court to compel their husbands to make love to them!" "Now what do you think of that?" asked the wife. "That is the way he always talks. There will be no kisses in this house except those I give to the baby." Mrs. Lindsay goes for sympathy to her mother. Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson. The latter is not permitted to visit the Lindsay, the Judge having so ruled, because the son-in-law holds her responsible for the effort to make him kiss and support the wife. The Lindsay home is too small to admit of being divided, so it will be doubly hard for the two to live as strangers. And as for bringing his wife a bunch of flowers, as the Magistrate suggested, Lindsay's face looks hard as iron at the mere suggestion.

Through the good offices of King Edward VII. the Astors of England and the Astors of America have been Reunited after years of estrangement.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The feud of twenty years between the Astor families has been ended. The peacemaker was no less a person than King Edward VII. himself. The news has reached New York, and it caused great surprise that Mrs. John Jacob Astor (who was Miss Willing) is the guest of William Waldorf Astor and that all branches of the family have been reconciled. Mrs. "Jack" is a notable figure at the big entertainments William Waldorf Astor is giving at his mansion in Carlton Terrace, London, and his country place, Cliveden. Thus is healed the most bitter quarrel. It was a more famous controversy than even that in the Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt family. William Waldorf Astor's eldest son and namesake who created a stir a few years ago by his marked attention to an Austrian princess has also dined with Mrs. "Jack" Astor at the house in Portland place which she rented for the season from Lady Edmonstone. This ending of a family feud that began over the question of social precedence and threatened to continue during the lives of the present heads of the Astor family, is due, it is declared, almost entirely to the mediation of the King, who delights in acting the role of a peacemaker not only between nations, but also in patching up family differences.

The Astor feud began with the death of William Waldorf Astor's mother, the widow of the second John Jacob Astor. William Waldorf Sr. declared that the mantle of social leadership in New York should descend by right to his own wife and not to Mrs. William Astor, the widow of his father's younger brother. To prove this he pointed out that he was the direct descendant of the first John Jacob Astor though he had to admit that he descended from the original John Jacob Astor's second son and not the eldest. The eldest son of the founder of the Astor millions was an imbecile and his father left his fortune to the second son, William B. Astor. John Jacob Astor II was the father of William Waldorf Astor, Sr., who was an only son. When his mother, who had been leader of New York's exclusive set, died, he declared his wife the leader of the "400," which Ward McAllister had at that time declared consisted of barely 400 persons. To this ruling Mrs. William Astor, widow of William Waldorf Astor's uncle, and mother of the present Colonel John Jacob Astor, demurred. She alleged that she alone should wield the social scepter. Mrs. Astor was supported by society in New York. She was a Schermerhorn before her marriage. She could point to a long line of ancestry. She gave social functions on the most magnificent scale. Her cards of invitation always gave Mrs. Astor as the hostess. It speedily became apparent that Mrs. William Astor was the recognized social leader of the "400" and William Waldorf Astor's wife in "the social world of the city." But William Waldorf Astor did not yield without a struggle. He even printed the genealogy of his family. He directed the postoffice to have letters addressed to Mrs. Astor sent to his wife. She he insisted, was the Mrs. Astor. This caused a multitude of orders and counter orders to be given to the postoffice officials at Newport, and all the while the breach was getting wider. The Waldorf Astors gave magnificent entertainments, and Mrs. William Waldorf's cards also mentioned "Mrs. Astor" as the hostess. Society went to both, discussed both and still remained loyal to Mrs. William Astor. The climax came in 1890, when William Waldorf Astor transferred his allegiance to the British Crown and made England his permanent home. Two years after he had settled in England his wife died. It was said then that peace might come, but it was a false hope. Colonel John Jacob Astor, who is now on the ocean on his way to England, has it is declared, taken with him to William Waldorf an olive branch from his aunt, and an invitation to visit her here.

THINGS CONCERNING WOMEN

Turkish women do not come into control of their private fortunes until after marriage. Then they can dispose of one-third of it without the husband's consent. With regard to wedding customs, an antiquary has been observing that many of the marriage customs which ladies are so fond of retaining are really relics of the time when women were simply the chattels or slaves of their husbands. Take, for instance, the wedding ring. What is that but a modern substitute for the chain or fetter, or perhaps the metal badge, of the female slave of the past? Then there is the custom of throwing an old shoe. In ancient times a ruler would signify his dominion over a serf by casting his shoe across it or over a serf by touching the serf's head with his shoe. The casting of a shoe, then, signifies the transfer of authority over the woman to the bridegroom. In the good old days a man who wanted a wife sometimes went with a companion to a neighboring tribe and carried off a girl by force. It was then necessary for him to take a hurried journey to a distance, to escape the vengeance of the pursuing friends of the girl. So today the bridegroom has a comrade in the shape of his best man and his honeymoon trip commemorates the flight from the wife's friends. On the day of a Chinese marriage uninvited friends and neighbors, or even perfect strangers, are allowed to come in and see the bride and they may make any remark about her, or to her pleasure—et cetera. Things horribly rude and disgusting are said to try her temper a man will say "Fetch your husband a cup of tea." If she does so all will say, jeeringly "What an obedient wife you are!" If she sulks and does not do as she is told they remark "That is a pretty vixen with which to begin married life. We cannot congratulate you on that tartar!" and other words to a similar effect. Then the poor thing is made to stand upon an inverted cup to show how small are her feet. My experience of life, writes a woman, has been that the great happiness and sense of blessing belong to middle age. We then have youth as it ought to be, we see it stripped of youth's unreasonable sorrow and illuminated by the light of its eternal typification, we remember little things that seemed trivial when we were really young—and humorous suggestions in the tragedies of our early days. Middle life straightens out for us the puzzles of youth, and old age soothes the broken ambitions of our working years. Can we doubt that another stage of existence follows in which all is disclosed—the secrets for which "eager life has sought in vain?" Miss Jessie Bartmann of Sharon, Minn., is only a school girl but she recently exhibited an amount of sense and heroism that few people would be capable of. She and her father were alone one day in their home and Mr. Bartmann was cutting wood. His ax slipped and he severed an artery in his left foot. His daughter had learned how to apply a tourniquet at school but Mr. Bartmann was so fleshy that she knew she could not twist a bandage tight enough to stop the flow of blood. The patient could give her no help, as he had fainted, but she thought of another plan and quickly executed it. Cutting off the shoe and stocking and trousers to the knee, she set the foot into a twelve-gallon stone jar on about three inches of flour. Then she filled the jar with flour and pressed it down with a stick of firewood. The bleeding stopped at once for the blood could not penetrate the flour. It was four hours before a doctor could be secured. When he arrived he said that Mr. Bartmann would have bled to death in a short time if it had not been for his daughter's presence of mind.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

Whenever the windows refuse to go up and down without a great deal of tugging and pulling, or bureau drawers seem to stick, brown soap is a friend in need. Take out the drawer and rub the soap on the runners and the groove in which the drawer is hung and, after pushing the window up as far as it will go, rub the soap on the sash or take the window out entirely and rub the soap on the edges. If the windows are taken out and all the ropes and edges of the cleaned windows are rubbed with soap there will be no trouble with them for a year, when the soap may be renewed.

Quite simplest way to wash lace is to make a soap lather by shredding a quarter of a pound of soap into a quart of water. Allow this to simmer over a slow fire until dissolved. Put a little of this in a clean, wide-necked glass bottle. Put in the lace also after thoroughly shaking the dust out of it. Then cork the bottle and shake it well. As often as the lather becomes dirty pour it off and add fresh, shaking as before. When it is clean rinse first in warm water and then in cold. Have ready a thick piece of flannel the size of the lace. Lay it on a clean table, pull the lace gently into shape, picking out all the little points and fastening them each with a pin. Above all, never iron or blue fine lace. Ironing makes it shiny. Bluing is criminal, as the creamy tint of lace is its most admired quality.

Whiting mixed to a cream in alcohol may be used to cleanse mirror surfaces. To clean a gilt mirror frame, brush off every particle of loose dust, then wet it a little space at a time with alcohol, applied with a camel's hair brush. Rub off the alcohol before it dries with a clean soft silk cloth or fine flannel. The oil should come with it, so change the cloth often.

A hammock is almost as comfortable in a city living room in summer as it is on a piazza. Hooks can be put into door frames to hold securely, and when the hammock is not in use one end should be taken down and fastened with the other. In the evening when the family is assembled it will always be in demand, and if it is a pretty one may be ornamental as well as comfortable.

To clean chamol gloves make a strong suds with white castle soap or any other kind of good white soap and to two quarts of suds add one teaspoonful of borax dissolved in half a pint of hot water. When the suds are cold, put the gloves on the hands and wash them slowly and gently, as if washing the hands. Rinse in the same manner in clear water. Then draw off gently and hang in a shady place to dry, drawing them into shape when they are almost dry. When perfectly dry, rub between the hands to soften them.

When the first very small string beans appear in the garden, make them into a delicate sweet pickle. This is a German dish which deserves to be better known in this country. Cut the ends off the tiny pods and remove the little beginnings of "strings," pack in glass jars and pour in the boiling spiced and sweetened vinegar just as if making sweet-pickled pears or peaches. If white wine vinegar is used the beans will retain their vivid green color and thus make a pretty as well as a delicious relish.

THE POLISH MARSEILLAISE.

(A Socialist Hymn Song in Warsaw.) The executioners have long shed our blood. The little tears of the people are constantly flowing. Yet the day of retribution will come. We shall be the judges then. We shall be the judges then.

Chorus:

Then higher, higher let us raise our song, Our standard flutters above the throne, It carries the thunderbolt of revenge, the wrath of the people, Sowing the seed of the future. And its color is red. For there is workmen's blood in it. For there is workmen's blood in it.

Though old miscreants, children of the night,

Would tie the broken thread, Evil crumbles into ruins, Good will live forever. Good will live forever. Already the old order of things is tottering, Its end is life for us. Work shall be in common, And the fruits of our work shall also be in common.

Together, brothers, to the ranks,

With one thought, hand to hand, Who can stay the course of the stream? Is there such a power on earth? Is there such a power on earth?

Down with tyrants, down with oppressors!

Let the old evil world perish, We will create a new life for ourselves. And a new order of things. And a new order of things.

HER IDEA OF EQUINOCTIAL.

About twenty-seven years ago the late James G. Blaine was invited to dine in a certain city in Eastern Maine where he happened to be on business. His host has recently married a second wife, more noted for her beauty and wealth than for her intelligence. It was near the middle of March and a storm was coming on, which the host and his wife, would probably be the equinoctial gale. "What do you mean by that?" he asked. "The same as the line gale," she answered. "The husband and wife in the affirmative and in reply to further questions, told her it was usual to expect a storm twice a year, when the sun crossed the equinox. "That day at dinner," said Mr. Blaine, "I remarked upon the severity of the storm, and my hostess, with an engaging smile replied: 'Yes, Mr. Blaine, isn't it singular that we always have such a fearful storm whenever the sun crosses the Penobscot?' Before I could frame a reply, my host in a tone of mild surprise exclaimed: 'You don't mean the Penobscot, do you?' and she at once said: 'Oh, my, how stupid of me! I meant the Andros coggin.'—Boston Herald.

NEWS OF THE DAY FROM THE SUBURBS

UNIQUE LETTER FROM TOWN CHARACTER.

Trustees of Berkeley Asked By John E. Boyd to Paint Hearst Fountain.

BERKELEY, July 11.—The proceedings of the Board of Town Trustees were enlivened last night by a letter from John E. Boyd, a town character noted for his homely wit and common sense. The letter is as follows:

"To the Honorable Board of Town Trustees—Gentlemen: Would you kindly allow a poor miserable sinner to call your attention to the disgraceful and dilapidated condition of 'Hearst fountain,' which sadly needs a coat of paint and a general cleaning up? This fountain, which should be an ornament to our city, is in its present condition an eyesore. A few dollars expended for a coat of paint would greatly improve its appearance. I would suggest its being painted blue and gold, if your finances will allow, or if the town treasury is bankrupt I will beg the money from the citizens and paint it black as a badge of mourning for the town's financial condition. And your petitioner will ever pray, you bet."

JOHN E. BOYD

There was general merriment and then President Rickard said: "The matter will be referred to the Finance Committee, with power to act."

MARSHAL'S REPORT.

Town Marshal Vollmer's financial report for June was as follows:

Four peddlers' licenses $20 peddlers' license for two weeks $30, three saloon licenses, $25, two livery licenses $6 one billboard license $25, two laundry licenses, $5, one theater license $10, one theater license, $5, two auctioneers' licenses, $15, nine dog licenses, $15, one bowling alley license $25 one express license, $10, total $375

CHURCH CAN'T HOLD ALL THE PEOPLE.

REV. W. H. HOPKINS.

Elaborate Additions to Big Edifice in Berkeley—Work of Brilliant Pastor.

BERKELEY, July 11.—So rapidly has been the growth in the membership of the First Congregational Church of Berkeley that increased accommodations are found necessary, and a big force of workmen are now busy adding an addition to the edifice that, when it is completed, will represent an expenditure of nearly $10,000. The firm of Kilder & McCullough has the contract for this work, which will require several months for its completion.

Rev. W. H. Hopkins, pastor of this church, has endeared himself greatly to the congregation, and so successful has been his pastorate that during the last twelve months 120 new members have been added to the church roll while hundreds have become attendants at the church who had not before attended services there. The addition to the church, now being built will double the seating capacity of the church.

A new pipe organ, to cost $4,000, is to be installed, with a new heating system, new electric lighting arrangement and other improvements. Although the changes are elaborate and necessarily costly, they are being made as inexpensively as possible, in view of a new church structure, which the congregation hopes to erect in the near future.

STUDENTS OF MUSIC GET A SURPRISE.

Professor at University Tells Class How to Act So as to Win "Respect."

BERKELEY, July 11.—Musicians and students of music at the University summer school were startled yesterday by Professor Albert Stanley of the University of Michigan who created a sensation by discussing the reason why musicians do not win the respect of their fellow men.

Professor Stanley is a big figure in the musical world, and particularly where musical education is concerned. He speaks with authority about those things that pertain to music and musicians.

There were no signs in the audience that any member of the crowd considered himself or herself, as a failure in the art of winning the respect of the world. The ladies were music teachers for the most part, and they were evidently astonished at the idea of anyone imagining that the world failed to respect them.

What could Professor Stanley mean? The Professor ignoring the astonishment did not even smile at the commotion that he had caused but continued his remarks saying gravely:

"When I have been present at conventions of musicians and heard resolutions read the effect of which was expected to be the gaining of respect for musicians as a class I have been amazed at the lack of idea of such action being taken. The resolutions that may be adopted under such circumstances are hardly calculated to impress the world with their desirability, and always ignore the underlying cause of such lack of respect for musicians as may exist."

"Why are musicians not respected? Why is there a feeling that they are, perhaps a bit queer? Why does a body of musicians find it necessary to pass resolutions that will dissipate the idea that musicians are unlike other wise smart sensible people?"

I will tell you. Musicians too often know nothing but music. They learn something—possibly a good deal—of music and there they stop.

"They do not fancy, apparently that it is necessary or desirable to know those things which help to balance men and women's faculties. Thus they become too often, eccentric. They are not rounded out. They have peculiarities that could be avoided, and should be. Into such gross extravagance do these eccentricities sometimes go that the perpetrator loses the respect of that world in which we live."

Instead of musicians adopting resolutions in convention in order to win people's respect let them broaden out, be fully matured, well bred men and women. Then the stigma that some feel is attached to the title of "musician" will most likely disappear. Then the respect that is desired will be won. It will be a lasting, respect and one that is deserved.

Following the disquisition upon this topic, Professor Stanley informed his hearers that the subject of music is the one subject in the public school curriculum that is taught by persons who know absolutely nothing about it. He declared his belief that the so-called "American tone" is the result of imperfect teaching of music in the public schools, and the same cause is responsible for the comparative lack of good or great singing voices in this country.

DOG ATTACKS YOUNG WOMAN

BERKELEY, July 11.—A pet Newfoundland dog sprang upon Miss Carrie L. Stevenson, daughter of Thomas Stevenson, a prominent resident of South Berkeley, recently, and severely lacerated her left arm and side. Physicians now attending her say all will be well if hydrophobia symptoms do not develop.

Miss Stevenson recently returned for a vacation from Fresno, where she is teaching school.

MUSICAL EVENING

Club Will Give An Affair at Elmhurst.

ELMHURST, July 11.—Preparations are being made by the La Vedette Mandolin and Guitar Club of this place to give their fourth concert in Red Men's Hall. The event will take place next Saturday evening. Professor Pedersen is to be in charge.

The young people who compose the club are talented performers on stringed instruments. At each previous performance they succeeded in fully pleasing their audience.

Beside the numbers rendered by the club members separately and together, there are to be one or two extra numbers by outside artists. The affair will wind up with a dance, the music for which is to be furnished by some of the club musicians.

TO GIVE PICNIC.

There is to be an excursion to Sastro Park on High street, east of here, on Sunday, July 24, given by the "Jolly Four" of Oakland. There is to be a special feature made of a competition in dancing, a $10 prize being offered to the best man and woman dancer.

There is expected to be a very large crowd in attendance, as the "Four" have an enviable reputation as picnic entertainers. They have secured several good judges to referee the dancing contest.

TO ENJOY A PICNIC Sunday School to Have An Outing.

SAN LEANDRO, July 11.—Special features of the annual picnic of the Sunday School and congregation of the Presbyterian Church here next Thursday will be a musical and literary program in the forenoon and a grand barbecue for dinner.

The excursionists will go to the end of Estadillo avenue, and encamp on the shore of the San Leandro creek, on a part of what is known as the "Milk Ranch" of J. Lynch, the superintendent of the Sunday School, will be in charge of the outing.

The barbecue will be cooked by Mr. Lynch. He will be assisted by other members of the church.

In the afternoon there is to be a tournament of games and races. Wallace McCoy has the direction of this department. The Sunday School has been divided into two equal sides, and the rivalry is sharp between the partisans. No prizes are to be given, as it is desired to avoid all suspicion of professionalism.

The teachers and officers of the school have formed themselves a committee of arrangements and are carrying on the preparations with vigor. It will be the biggest picnic yet given under the auspices of this church.

MEETS MISS ROOSEVELT.

Miss Hortense Grosh of this place was accorded a slight honor last Saturday. She went to see the President's daughter start for the Orient on the Manchuria. On account of the official position of her sister, she was allowed to be one of the fifty on the upper deck with Miss Roosevelt. Before leaving the ship Miss Grosh received an introduction to the daughter of the executive.

L. C. Morehouse and his family left Sunday on a trip to Andia Springs, where they will remain about a week.

OLD WOMAN'S PITIFUL STORY

BERKELEY, July 11.—Declaring that her former benefactress, Mrs. M. Hessler of 717 Sixteenth street, had sent her from under her roof because she was ill and her feeble hands could no longer do the housework required of her, Mrs. Mary Jansen, aged 77 and partially paralyzed, wandered about the streets last Thursday until she found shelter at the home of Mrs. Christina Johnson of 1449 Blackstone street. Mrs. Jansen now lies at the residence of the latter in a precarious condition, one portion of her body being insensible to pain or motion.

In the meantime, Mrs. Johnson is trying to compel Mrs. Hessler to reinstate the sick woman in her house until she recovers, but the latter is unwilling to do so, and the police have been called in to settle the difficulty.

Mrs. Johnson thinks that her friend has treated Mrs. Jansen cruelly and threatens to bring suit to compel Mrs. Hessler to take Mrs. Jansen back again.

HAROG STILL GOING AFTER THE WEEDS.

Wants to Beautify Alameda's Depots and Vacant Lots—News Notes From Encinal.

ALAMEDA, July 11.—Manager John H. Harog of the Alameda Advancement Association, is still prosecuting a vigorous campaign against weeds. He has thoroughly mapped out the city, and has in reality counted every weed-bedecked lot and rubbish-fringed sidewalk in the city. He means to remove these wild embellishments, even if the law has to be invoked to carry out his project.

Mr. Harog also purposes to beautify the railroad stations in Alameda. His plan is to build a little park about each station, and have terra cotta vases filled with suitable flowers erected at the various stopping places of the local trains. Chestnut street station is to be the first that is to feel the effects of the energetic manager's efforts. The work of improvement is to commence at this point within the next few days.

Mr. Moessohn, who is secretary of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. Lerner of this city. He is rather favorably impressed by the beauties of Alameda, and after hearing an outline of the plan of Manager Harog expresses the opinion that this city can be made one of the most desirable residence sites about the bay.

He urges the necessity of cleaning up the weeds, that this should not be done under force, but that the civic pride of the citizens of this municipality should dictate the unsightly weeds should be eradicated.

Mr. Moessohn has been sent to this vicinity in the interests of the Portland Chamber of Commerce in regard to the question of Chinese immigration. He is to thoroughly investigate the matter, and upon his arrival in the Northwest is to present a complete report.

He is a rising young lawyer of Portland, and has made considerable fame as a "booster" of the city on the river. He will remain in this vicinity for a month or more, and has promised to extend his help to the improvers of this city.

HE ALSO VISITED ALAMEDA.

ALAMEDA, July 11.—William Malter, alias William Bohle, who is now under arrest in Oakland for buncing real estate men out of small sums, paid Alameda a visit. He succeeded in victimizing Rev. Gilman Parker of the First Baptist Church. Mr. Parker is out of town at present, and it was an impossibility to find out how Malter victimized him, though it is supposed that he used the dodge of representing himself to be of the same faith, thus ingratiating himself into the graces of the clergyman.

Malter got himself into the good graces of J. T. Hardin, a real estate agent of Encinal avenue, and before he left Hardin the wily crook got $150 out of him saying that he was short of change. Hardin says that he is extremely glad that the crook did not ask for $10, for he would have readily given it to him.

E. D. Judd, another real estate man, was victimized for 50 cents. Judd is willing to swear to a complaint and prosecute the fellow.

George L. Lewis, the well-known Park street real estate broker, was "touched" by the oily stranger, but did not respond to the "touch."

SAMUEL WITT'S MOTHER DEAD.

ALAMEDA, July 11.—Samuel Witt of Santa Clara avenue has received news of the death of his mother Mrs. Matthen Witt, in Fresno, which occurred on June 8th. Deceased was a widow, aged 69 years and resided with a daughter. Surviving her are three sons and two daughters—Samuel Witt, of this city, Louis Witt of British Columbia, Albert Witt of Chicago, Mrs. Rose Janowski of Auburn, Cal., and the daughter in Germany.

MANY NEW HOUSES.

ALAMEDA, July 11.—The records of Sanitary Inspector Eugene C. Mallhot show that during the fiscal year ending on June 30th, 1905, new houses were built in this city. The record for the preceding year was 104 houses, a gain of nearly 50 per cent.

NO WATER FOR THEM

Haywards People Run Short of Supply.

HAYWARDS, July 11.—Troubles with the water supply caused the citizens of this place to say many hard things about the San Lorenzo Water Company Sunday afternoon. For several hours the supply was entirely cut off, and every one had to procure the precious liquid from such of his neighbors as owned wells.

It is said by the officials of the water company that the small tank was filled to supply the town while repairs were being made at the large reservoir. The amount of water was not sufficient to keep running after noon, while the work lasted until after midnight.

The townspeople suffered two hours from the lack of water on Friday, and are beginning to think that it is something more than a coincidence that such accidents happen so near together just after the date when the company threatened to cut off the town entirely if the rates were not raised.

When the Town Trustees had the matter of fixing the price of water for this fiscal year under consideration, every member of the Board received a private letter from the San Lorenzo Water Company stating that on July 1 the stop cock would be turned and the town would go thirsty unless the rates were raised and a compromise effected with the company. After consulting with the Town Attorney the Trustees paid no attention to the threats and fixed the rates at the former figure.

The company did not turn off the water on July 1, but sent instructions to their agents to keep things going on as usual. The officials of the town were all prepared to enjoin the manager from shutting off the supply if he should try it.

The Hunt Brothers' Company, which controls the big cannery here, announced its intention to dig for water, it was thought that it was to escape from the troubles that might result out of this condition of affairs. The digger struck a bountiful supply of pure water, and the company has just had a huge reservoir built to store the liquid.

It is stated authoritatively that the cannery people are fully determined to install their own water plant this year, as they would need so much that the expense of buying it would be greater than digging.

U. R. K. P. GIVES BALL.

Company 66 of the Uniformed Rank of the Knights of Pythias entertained a large number last night at Fraternal Hall on East Twelfth street. Dancing was indulged in to a late hour, and then an appetizing banquet was served. The members of the company appeared in their uniforms and made a brilliant showing in the ballroom. The public was invited to attend.

After the supper there were a few short speeches of a humorous nature. Every one had a good time. The party broke up shortly after midnight.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

The Rev. J. Hopkins, who was scheduled to preach at the Congregational Chapel last Sunday, was unable to appear. He was taken suddenly ill at the corner of Fruitvale avenue and East Fourteenth street when on his way to the church. He was taken into Phillips drug store on the corner and cared for by a physician. It is reported that he has recovered from the attack, which was partly caused by the heat.

Joe Villalao and P. H. Blake Jr. left yesterday for a month at Bartlett Springs.

COFFEE STATISTICS.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The annual statistical report of the New York Coffee Exchange, covering the coffee year ending June 30, according to the Journal of Commerce, shows that the total sales during the year amounted to 21,334,759 bags, against 21,265,590 bags during 1903-04, 9,556,250 bags during 1902-03, 3,707,000 bags during 1901-02 and 7,232,000 bags in 1900-01.

* SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., JULY 10, 1905. *

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The police are trying hard to head off attorney George D. Collins before he gets out of the country. He is traveling with Mrs. Collins No. 2, and it is supposed that the fugitive is heading for Canada. He took the train at Sixteenth street station, Oakland, when he went away.

When the announcement was made yesterday afternoon that Collins was gone, Detective Tom Gibson hurried up to the house at 1118 Sacramento street, in which Collins and the McCurdys have been living, and made a thorough search of every room.

FOUND A CHINESE.

The only living being in the place was a Chinese servant named Tom who stated that he had not prepared a meal for the whole family since lunch on Friday, and that Mrs. McCurdy left some time on Sunday without saying where she was going. The search of the house revealed nothing that would give a clue as to the whereabouts of Collins or the woman. The neighbors were questioned, and they admitted having seen some parcels from a dry goods store taken to the house early on Friday evening, but they saw nothing taken away. Gibson took him down to the Hall of Justice. Meanwhile "Bogie" O'Donnell had been located, and when court convened at 4 o'clock there was quite a bunch of witnesses to be examined.

FIRST WITNESS.

Kingston was first put on the stand, and his testimony was the first intimation of the plan Collins pursued in speaking out of the city. He explained that he had been living at 1118 Sacramento street a little over a month, the reason being that Collins was short of money and could not pay him, and supplied him with board and residence as some measure of recompense. "The fact is, absolutely the only reason, and this proposition of my acting as a thug and bodyguard for Collins is absolutely untrue," exclaimed Kingston. He recounted with great circumstantiality the details of the trip to Sixteenth street station, telling the following story in substance:

SNEAKING AWAY.

"I went with him to the station at his request. He had told me he meant to use the recess from Friday to Monday in taking a trip to the springs for his health. He did not say what springs, and I did not feel justified in asking him. I do not know who engaged the launch or the automobile, but my conclusion is that Bogie O'Donnell did it for Collins. He told me he went across the bay in that manner so as to avoid the publicity of going in the ferry boat. About 5:30 o'clock on Friday Collins telephoned from the house to the office for me to go out to the house. I went out, and about 7 o'clock Collins told me to go along with him and Mrs. Collins. We walked over the hill to California street, where an automobile was waiting. I carried Mrs. Collins' wraps and suitcase. Bogie O'Donnell was in the automobile with a grip and in the automobile at Oakland was a second grip, both of which Collins took away with him.

DINNER IN OAKLAND.

"We got into an automobile at the other side of the bay, and while driving along, Collins said, 'There is a restaurant in the city where we can get dinner.' So we got out and entered the place about three-quarters of an hour. Collins complained of the service. Then we drove to the Sixteenth street station, where Collins gave me money to buy two tickets to Sacramento. He took the tickets and went on the train with Mrs. Collins. I came back in the automobile on the ferry. Collins was dressed in his usual manner—a dark gray frock coat, pants of the same material, and light Fedora-shaped hat. He made no attempt to disguise himself or to alter his appearance."

amined by District Attorney Byington, and in reply to all questions insisted that he did not suspect that Collins was meditating an escape. "The day he went down to Los Angeles I asked him if he intended to skip, and he said 'No,'" remarked Kingston.

"And yet you didn't ask him if he was going to skip when he made these automobile and launch trips, did you?" I asked Byington.

"No. I didn't because I considered he could have got away the time he went to Los Angeles if he had wanted."

WHAT WHISKEY COSTS THE DRUNKARD

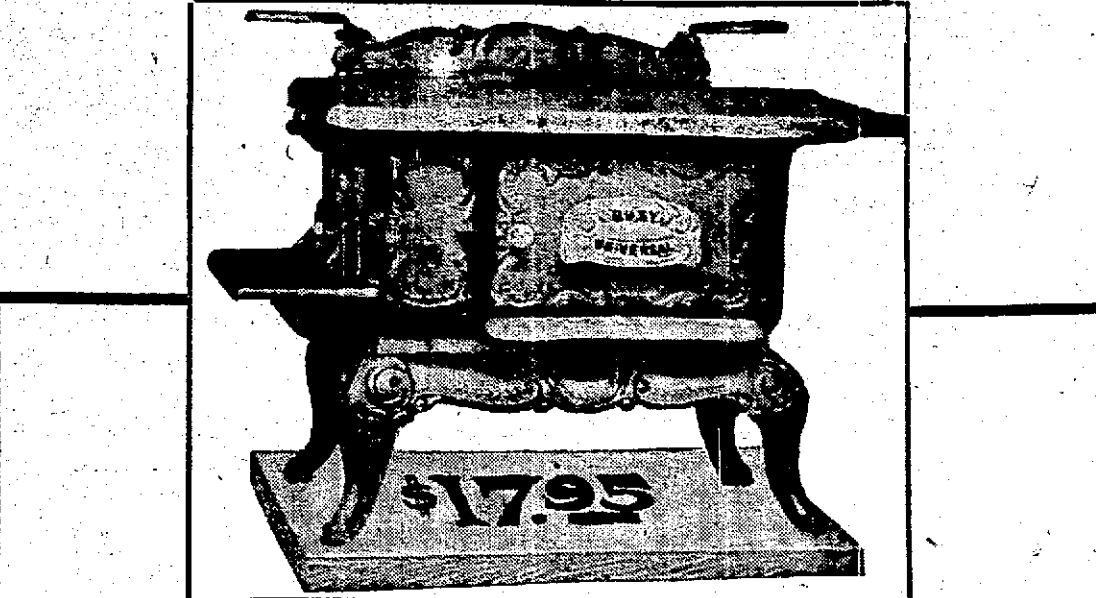

CURE THE DRINK HABIT WITH ORRINE AND SAVE MONEY.

Whiskey drinking does not pay. Take the lowest possible view, without counting the loss of friends, the loss of the drunkard; consider simply the actual money paid out, and see what it costs in dollars and cents. Good authority states that nearly one-third of the wages of the laboring man goes over the bar. How much are you contributing? Figure up for one month how much you take from your wife and children and pay out in exchange for drink. The total will astonish you, and you will swear off.

Will-power alone will not cure the habit. Use Orrine, the only guaranteed cure for the habit. It can be used without publicity or loss of time. It strengthens the nerves, gives a good appetite and refreshing sleep. The cost is small. 11 cent box. Orrine is sold and recommended by Owl Drug Co., Oakland, San Francisco, Sacramento.

STATE BANKS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The Board of Bank Commissioners reports that all the California banks under its jurisdiction are in a prosperous condition. Between January 5 and May 29 there has been a loss of $3,755,373.99 in resources and a gain of $5,028,962.11 in deposits. The apparent increase in assets is due to the consolidation of the Wells-Fargo and Nevada Banks into a national bank. The interior commercial banks have gained $3,127,442.56 in resources and $550,564.48 in deposits during the last year.

BOY SINKS WITH HIS BOAT

WARM WEATHER AT LIVERMORE

BATHER DROWNS IN SIGHT OF COMPANIONS, WHO LEAVE HIM.

OLD SOL BREAKS THE RECORD IN THE VALLEY AND STOPS WORK.

POINT RICHMOND, July 11.—A young Italian by the name of L. Tanmartino, an employee of the Wilson-Lyons Brick Company, was drowned in the bay off the yards.

The young man went out in an old leaky boat with four companions to bathe. Shortly after leaving the shore the boat began to fill and by the time deep water was reached it was in a sinking condition. This mattered nothing to the companions of Tanmartino, for all of them could swim, and they laughingly plunged into the water and swam for the shore. The boy, however, remained in the boat for a few moments, but at last he capsized and he was thrown into the water.

He was seen to struggle for a short time and then disappeared, and when his companions reached the spot the boat had sunk beneath the waters.

Search was made for the body until a late hour, but without avail, and yesterday morning an expert diver was secured and after many attempts found the body and brought it to the surface.

The body was brought to the Morgue and later shipped to Martinez. The dead man was but 18 years of age and has only been here from Italy a short time.

HORSES RUN AWAY.

C. Schino's delivery horse broke from his moorings yesterday noon in front of the creamery on Washington street and plunged headlong into the oil wagon of Isaac Lester, causing that gentleman's horse to run away. The latter animal demolished the rig, while Schino's vehicle was damaged but slightly. Mr. Lester feels that he is a victim of an unfortunate circumstance, for unless badly frightened his horse is perfectly trustworthy.

BABY BURNED.

The infant daughter of Emil Heyman was badly burned about the hands by falling against a hot stove yesterday morning. The lot is but eighteen months old and in passing by the stove lost her balance. She put out both her little hands to save herself, with the result that they were burned from the tips of the fingers to the wrist. Her injuries are considered very serious.

COMEDY AT LIBERTY

LARGE HOUSE WITNESSES FIRST PERFORMANCE OF "THE COUNTY FAIR."

Charles Barnard's pastoral play, "The County Fair," received its first stock production at Ye Liberty Playhouse last night, and from the hearty applause it met with it is apparent that it has lost none of its popularity.

Age cannot wither nor make stale the homely charm of this comedy of farm life in Vermont. It is as funny as ever. The humor is not of the broad variety, but of the quiet humor of Frank Bacon, as Abigail True, the prim Prudish and practical old maid, is something to be remembered, his work being a pleasing as ever. David Ingraham is seen in the role of Otis Tucker, and he dresses and acts the character with due sense of the humor. Elmer Booth gives a creditable piece of work in the role of Tim, the tanner, who trains Cold Molasses to race in the county fair. Orval Humphreys again played the part of the villain, as Solon Hammerhead, and gave a good portrayal of that character. Landers Stevens as Joel Bartlett gave a good piece of acting in that role. Irene Ostrum as Sally Greenwood, and Madeline Maxwell as Maria Perkins are excellent.

The "County Fair" will be the attraction for the entire week, with the usual matinees Saturday and Sunday.

SAY MARRIAGE WAS NOT SECRET

Yesterday Leroy E. Enos, aged 21 years, and Miss Lella Richardson, aged 18, went to Martinez, and there were married by Rev. Mr. Baker. Mr. Enos is employed as a brakeman for the Southern Pacific Company and lives with his grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Enos, at 1723 Ninth street.

By the statement made by Mr. Enos yesterday it appears that both he and his wife are orphans. "My parents are both dead," he said, "and so are the parents of my wife. She had been living with friends in Oakland. The reason we went to Martinez to be married is because we wanted to avoid embarrassment among our friends. We were not ready to go housekeeping and entertain our friends, so we thought we would keep it a secret. Our marriage was not an elopement, and we would like as little as possible said about it."

Mrs. Enos said yesterday: "No, we don't want a thing in the paper about it. We just want to keep this to our selves until we are ready to announce it. As yet we do not know where we will live, but for the present will stay at the home of Mr. Enos' grandmother."

SHOOTS GUN TO FRIGHTEEN WIFE

James Morris, a bricklayer residing at 1054 Broadway, returned to his home last night about 7 o'clock in an intoxicated condition. With him was a man by the name of Ruth. Shortly after they commenced a wild exhibition. Morris imagined he saw things, and called to his wife for a revolver. This Mrs. Morris became frightened and ran to the front room, thinking that probably her husband would do her harm.

Just as she shut the door two shots rang out. Immediately Mrs. Morris summoned the police, but when Sergeant Beck arrived he found that both men had made their escape.

Morris was found later in the evening at Twelfth and Broadway, and stated that he only did the shooting to frighten his wife.

Both Morris and Ruth were taken to the city prison and booked for carrying concealed weapons.

Grip Pains

It would be utterly impossible to imagine anything more distressing than La Grippe pains. They are simply indescribable, and seem to be composed of all the misery sensations known.

Yet they can be relieved, and in a very short time, by taking

Dr. Miles' Anti Pain Pills

The greatest remedy on earth for pains of any kind. Their soothing influence upon the nerves is felt throughout the entire system. I had La Grippe pains all over me, and I was in such distress I thought I could not endure it. I thought of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and after taking three doses the pain disappeared and I slept peacefully. My brother has a swelling on his neck, and uses them, as they ease the pain and leave no bad effects like quinine.

SHOOTING AT CALIFORNIA PARK.

Sunday, July 16, will witness the first celebration at California Park, West Berkeley, by the united French fellow-citizens of Alameda county, of the anniversary of the "Fall of the Bastille."

An executive committee, composed of residents from all sections of the county, selected at a mass meeting held last April, has been diligently and intelligently at work to formulate a program which may do honor to "the day we celebrate," as well as be entertaining to the public and State, for all true Americans, whether native born or naturalized, as well as all lovers of freedom, the celebration of the "Fall of the Bastille," should awaken a sympathetic feeling, a feeling as strong as the ties that are forever binding as in a solid link, the names of the "Immortal Washington" and the "Illustrious Lafayette."

On that memorable day in 1789, the world witnessed the heroic efforts of the down-trodden and oppressed in the French capital, to throw off their shackles. The results was, to use a trite American expression, an "eye-opener" to the whole world. Their success was a benefit to all mankind shaking thrones centuries old to their foundations, showing the people their power over their oppressors and a clear way to liberty and happiness.

The celebration will consist of literary and musical exercises, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Afterwards, concert games, etc., etc. In the evening gorgeous illuminations, and dancing until 12 o'clock.
